Hi,I remember in the original Command and Conquer there were Recon Bikes. I was wondering if westwood are ever going to allow the use of these in multiplayer Renegade. I believe it would be great fun to drive those around.I saw the Recon Bike in a single player cutscene destroying the Transport helicopter you are in in the cutscene for 'Deadly reunion'.Anyone know if westwood plans this?

Coolies It would be good if they made it a normal purchase unit, as the Recon Bike and Nod Buggy were probably the most seen Nod units in Tiberian Dawn.At the least they should add it in as an extras unit (like the Charmeleon(sp?)).

hopefully westwood will release some maps with recon bikes (hopefully they redo them all adding recon bikes AND helicopters to all maps). Lets face it, they make it appear as the Tiberian war was fought mainly with helicopters dropping off men, why not have that in multiplayer too? Anyways, lets just wait until the next update (if there are anymore).

They didn't portray the war being fought with helicopter dropping off tanks n stuff. Thats just the commando perspective. I don't think a big shot general would send a helicopter with a medium tank hanging by it to a grunt who needs some help.
