I recently jumped out of the HON and landed on top of an APC. Would it be possible to have 4 people in the APC as well as a few more on top and drive it to the enemy base?

I've heard that you fall off when the vehicle starts moving. This was pointed out when a guy called Alkaline told about a tactic where you jump on the Orca and put a undisarmable in the air above an enemy building (after flying there).[May 15, 2002: Message edited by: eae]
