Do you have any Renegade related sites/programs you use ? If so do you try and spread the word ? If so, how ? I'd like to find a program that mass converts TGA 2 JPEG but every program I find is shareware/freeware and only does so many images.

Anyways I belive members of this forum should help spread the word in game. I use Renegade Autocomplete for those type of task. Point of all this is, more active members = more post -- more post = "better" msg board (in general).

I spend 85% of my time @ work on these forums and let me tell joo -- its hella slow. I end up re-reading post/thread etc. So my obvious interest is to get more members, for my benefit ps. Yes, this is why you see my post all over the place. I try to keep them on topic but every now and again u get stuff like ^^^ this.

I've found an excellent freeware program that converts an infinenetely-sized batch of TGA (and several other filetypes) to JPEG. It works great, no ads, and it's quick and simple. I'll upload it to Dante's Mod Exchange and give you a link, hold on.

Here's the link to the attachment... Only problem is the attachment won't appear until Dante verifies it as virus free... If you need it now, I could transfer it to you via AIM or MSN Messenger.

I agree I post a lot aswell and offer my help when I can be of help...

I try not to be baised towards anyone and try to advertise stuff in my signature all the time....

These forums are full of info it just needs the right people to pull it out...

I just use adobe photoshop to open my tga files and save them as jpeg but I guess this converter would be more efficent.
