well, even if you do take out the uilding you are attacking in force, there is a problem. if you have an engie or two repairing it while you attack, they rack up points like crazy... so if your rush is a last minute thing in a match, its quite possible you may lose to points. although this isnt quite likely to happen, i noticed it. call me crazy if you want

M0ldymilk there is a great advantage of fixing a building that is being destoryed and that is that YOU DONT LOSE IT, if you leave the building so the other team doesn't get as many points they will destory the building (and I think you get a lot of points for destorying a building) their for there is NO disadvantage apar from ONE and that is that I uses up people who could be attacking/defending.

ctrl + alt + 6 = denfend the baseand ctrl + 4 = destroy that vehicleuse these while repairing building may help your team get their sh!t together. You don't need everyone fixing the building

Best way to do things is to run on in when they repairing it. Especially if u are a shotgun trooper wasting engies is soo fun. ANotehr cool thing to do is to try and plant a timed c4 on an engi. IF your lucky like I was when u do it, u can kill all the engis by that 1 c4 charge.
