Has anyone actually tried to make some of the new C&C 4 Tiberian Twilight models? Like the Stealth tank or the Flame tank or maybe the orcas. Cuz it looks really cool in the preview and would look even better in renegade. The official website would probably give a skilled modder enough information to make a model of a unit. Im just bringing it up just so anyone that has some skillsz and confidence can do this. If someone could I and alot of other people would really appreciate it.

The models may look good in pictures or videos but ingame the models suck out loud, along with the overall game.

Not even. It's less than a C&C than Black Jack is.
