I would just like to wish ACK a Happy Birthday today. And even though some of us don't like him. (zeratul ) And he don't like some of us. We should wish him a Happy B-Day out of respect for being a great mapper and a fellow Renegade gamer.

Happy Birthday Aircraftkiller!

Because no one cares about you. What do you do, anyways? All I've seen you do is complain about Westwood Studios and EA, or point pimp your way to the top.

Hardly anything anyone should care about.

HomeyWhy should anyone care about your birthday? happens once a year just like everyone else, unless they know you in real life its stupid.

Maybe because I do more than whine and complain?

I don't know, maybe because I helped build this community without any kind of monetary compensation from the corporation that is Electronic Arts?

Maybe they want to give something back to me because of what I've done?

You decide... After all, you're the expert on caring for others, aren't you?
