Something like that needs to happen in renforums, maybe we'd get some popularity back.

Facebook is like AIDS. Not only is the site and its community extremely large, but it's overwhelming amounts of stupidity spread to other parts of the internet, such as that Acura forum.

Facebook isn't the source of the stupid. Stupid people are.

By your logic, we should shut down the Mod Forum and the Mod Release Forum for creating such terrible skins and other abominations unto the lord. In reality if we did that, the skinfags would just move to General Discussions. The Mod subforums aren't the source of the skinfaggotry, skinfags are. Makes sense?

Sir, I laud your vision for a new, brighter tomorrow in RenForums. If I am elected President of Renegade Forums, I will see to it that these particular forums, which allow harmful, potentially dangerous 'minority' skins into our community, be eliminated in order to preserve our freedom from ugly shit.

Also you have to remember that Facebook is the Apple of websites, meaning it's made for people that aren't good with things like the internet or computers. But they still have a goal to make everyone on the internet have a personal ID so f them.

No, Facebook is a source of stupidity.

Stupidity is a virus and the people are the bacteria that carry it.

Stupid people group on Facebook and then they expand to other parts of the web. Which is what I said originally.

I use facebook as a free way of keeping in contact with friends. Just like MSN, IRC and E-Mail, what is wrong with that?
