Hello all,

we have thought of the following to make game-maps's Renegade section a bit more accessible to the public skimmers/mappers /modders out there:

We can create you an personal account on the renegade section so that you can add your content to the site's database.
You will get a ftp login to upload the files.

What do we expect?

- . For you to register an account on our forums over at mp-gaming.com
You will be placed in the "Game-Maps Contributor" usergroup and can access some forums normal users cannot so you can directly talk with the admins and staff from Game-Maps if you may have questions or comments or whatever.
- . For you to only upload content that has to do with Renegade.
Of course you are allowed to create a folder /myscreenshots/ and upload screenshots in there and stuff for personal use as long as the contents are 100% legal.
- . For you to not upload files that were not made by you or are duplicates.

You can easily link to your downloads anywhere on the web.
Many renegade players already use Game-Maps frequently so your files will have a larger exposure in the community

If you are interested then just reply here or PM me.

Thanks for reading and if you have any questions lets see them.
