i find this strange... on 2 songs on my PSP if i play them completely through it shows them as corrupted files... if i restart the PSP i can play them again and they are not corrupted little curious why this is happening...

also i can skip the songs and they do not show corrupt

i looked this up but have gotten no answer

Might be something to do with the mp3 footer, or it's been encoded in some weird way. Try to see if you can obtain other versions of the tracks (Youtube might be best, use mp3 converters for them).

Corrupted song happens if you somehow downloaded the song but you delete the songs main source and left with the corrupted .mp3
