We have set up a repository for public use for our server and its source files.
Anyone can access these source files by using the Tortoise SVN system.

You can download Tortoise SVN over here in both 32bit and 64bit versions:
<http://tortoisesvn.net/downloads>

A guide on how to set this up will be posted shortly...

At the moment we are busy setting it up, we invite anyone with even the most basic C++ knowledge to join in on our development for the SSAPB for Red Alert A Path Beyond and SSGM for Renegade.

If you would like access to this repository for writing and updating files please feel free to create a new topic in this forum and request a login to be made.
