All the players in our coop server received uber WOL rank, as you never actually lost, and all the kills counted, too.

Plus you was always on One team and the calcualtion of points is determined by the team size, so in a 50 player server if you was at the top it was kinda like you came first out of 100 players.

The points gained was retarded really, a player could spend the whole day in our server and be top of the ladder.

People got pissed.

I remember that too...that wasn't even that long ago, 2007? Anyway, cool video and this would be awesome to release as a pack I just need to find the time to play on that server now to test it out...

In renz0r, we always had fun thinking about some community fun battle.

The gdi MP's vs the black prisoners.

How about that?
