This is actually a cheat built into the game, but who really cares! Press F8 and type extras fmkqrm It will say in purple letters in the corner, extras ENABLED. Then, when you go into the PT hold alt and click on Characters or Vehicles. The names are screwed up and the show pictures of officers and buggies (nod) or Hummers (GDI) The GDI Characters are Dr. Petrova, Locke, Logan, and Lieutenant Maus. Their Vehicles are a Sedan and a Pickup-Truck. The Nod Characters are Mutated Dr. Petrova, Kane (yes, Kane), a Chef, an initiate, an Acolite, and a Templar. The Mutants are healed by Tiberium. Their Vehicle is the chameleon. This cheat will NOT work in ladder games! Its hard to be Nod and be in the tiberium field as a Templar with a Flettig Gun!

all it gives you are some cheapass self-healing mutants, characters with barely any health, and sniper bait vehicles that only serve to waste valuable vehicle slots.

But really...it gets so annoying to shoot someone and have them shoot themselves to autoheal...on the brighter side, when you're on Nod and GDI is pumping out the sedans, you can almost hear the snipers having orgasms over it...

Actually, I find that the sedan and Chameleon are very usefull.Sedans are good for parking almost in front of the MCT in the AGT, but so that you can still repair the building. this gives the attackers another obstacle, and you can leave it unmanned because it wont be a threat if the enemy is in a sedan inside the AGT.Sedans are also useful for if you are defending as a hotwire. Hop in the sedan to drive to buildings faster, and repair. Get back in, and drive over any SBH or other infantry. Be sure to repair the sedan.You can also use the sedan as a mobile bomb. If the enemy is setting up a flame rush, you can counter attack with 750 credits. Get a sedan, get a hotwire, pump it with mines, only on the front of the car though. Five mines should be enough. Drive at full speed towards the flames when they pass the center of the map, otherwise they might back up and repair. When you get IN the sedan, make sure you have your remote C4 in hand.When your sedan blows up, dump the remote C4, timed c4, and detonate the remotes. The other team will be stunned that one dinky sedan blew up half their flame fleet.The Chameleon works as a beautiful APC on snow and desert map. They blend in and are hard to spot, plus they are fast and can fit 5 ppl, and have a good amount of armor.The pickup truck is just cannon-fodder for snipers.Actually, the pickup truck is good for taking jumps over rocks, ledges, and other interesting stunts. On the map Fortress, I drove a pickup up the wall and into the guard tower. Took an SS, ill find it somewhere.

Umm. ive known about that "Cheat" for a long time. Its posted in almost every Renegade site I know of. Just look under 'Speacial Characters' or 'hidden units' or 'secret units'. Or, if you see a templar running around, and you dont know how he did it, just ask him. Its easy.

The chamelion is a half-decent vehicle...it's good for getting techs to the AGT and even beyond, because of its armor and decent speed. There's not much the sedan and pickup can do that I wouldn't prefer a recon bike for, though.

Even in un-laddered games, you should ask the host before enabling extras... Some people might not like having half their vehicle slots going to weaponless, healthless sedans and pickups...

I found some extra characters too.When you're in a purchase terminal, instead of choosing one of the 4 normal characters, press 6.This lets you choose up to 10 more characters, including snipers and people with rockets!
