Hey guys. A new Renegade X progress update is online on the front page of our new site, <http://www.renegade-x.com>

The update covers information about our upcoming Renegade X: Black Dawn release, which will be a standalone mini-campaign. We give plenty of images of our dynamic lighting system (time of day), Transport Choppers, the new sniper rifle and nightvision, morph targets, Tiberium, and more.

We also need your votes on ModDB.com It is the annual Mod of the Year contest, and we'd appreciate every vote we can get! Simply click here, click on Unreal Tournament 3 and press "vote" right next to Renegade X's profile.

Check out the full update HERE

We hope to bring you more news very soon - there are many exciting developments on the standalone multiplayer release, which will make their way to public once ready.

Until then, keep your eyes peeled on the forums and give our current beta a try. Until next time, ciao!

Like I've said before... This game has screen shots worthy to be desktop backgrounds
