I am trying to build a list of all the major servers and communities out there that are still active.

What I have on the list so far:

n00bstories

BlackIntel

Jelly

Exodus

n00bless

SK-Gaming

L337-Snipers

unrules

st0rm gaming exodus

atomix

mp-gaming

thekoss2 (goztow's servers)

Anyone know of any other active renegade servers or communities out there I should have on my list?

did wittebolx poof?

there are some co-op servers out there that people play on and this sweet build server where i found Altzan earlier

he told me he built that giant ass hotel himself good work Altzan

Some of that stuff is really neat. The best part is that Renegade's rather lackluster coding is what enables that kind of shit. If the netcode was halfway decent, it wouldn't allow just random ass objects to be spawned.

clanwars.cc isn't active now, although if the anti-cheat works out, it's entirely possible it could revive.

...the heck? I didn't build that.

Besides, if I had typed sellall, it wouldn't still be there, would it?

After the weekend lobby wars, I might try to get some clanwars going, I already have a few interested. It wouldn't be hard to get clanwars.cc at least partially active again. With a new anti-cheat, I wouldn't doubt it could revive. I'd take part.

Nope we did not poof.

We are very much alive at the gaming scene, just not renegade. We are waiting for the patch and the source of it so we can upgrade the servers to the new standard before coming back on the server list.

If you're looking for "major" communities, a couple of those names shouldn't be on that list.

Major Active communities would be

Jelly

Atomix

N00bless

N00bstories

1337-Snipers (For sniping based)
St0rm
Exodus
MP-Gaming
Black-Intel / TheKoss (Not sure on these, I could be wrong?)

Other than that, other servers listed I would just consider to be Active communities but not major ones.

This. Does TheKoss generally have a lot of players in it? I use rr, so i can't actually ever see the server.

The thekoss server doesn't get many people same with exodus. They are mostly used when we have community wars and fun wars. They are the main servers we use when we have these events.

One of the koss server hasn't been broadcasting to gsa use wol.

I use RR for reasons though....I don't understand why a community wouldn't want people direct connecting..

It's still RR though, so the server will still not be listed.

you use xwis/wol instead of the gsa server list. Doesn't matter if you use rr.

Currently, the KOSs2 server is inactive, except for the lobby wars. This is because most of our members moved on to other games for the moment. It's possible that we regain activity after TT gets released, maybe so maybe not. I wouldn't call us a major server at all for the moment. At best a semi active server for private games.
