We have set up several servers on Counterstrike Source Beta two weeks ago. They have become semi active now usually during the afternoon/evening. Especially our 24/7 Office server has many people playing usually.

If you own CS:Source in Steam you can also download CS:Source Beta for free! So if you like to do a game of some old fashion CS:S then go download the Beta and come play with us on our servers.

We have 5 Beta servers up and running:

109.230.216.206:27112 - 24/7 Assault

109.230.216.206:27250 - 24/7 Iceworld Arena DeathMatch

109.230.216.206:27111 - 24/7 Italy

109.230.216.206:27114 - 24/7 NewportBeach (more new maps may be added)

109.230.216.206:27113 - 24/7 Office

So go ahead and add them to your favorites

The servers are all combining player and game statistics on our domain over at <http://www.css-stats.com> so you get a rank position shared among all servers.

If you are ranked 23rd, you will be ranked 23rd on Office as well as on our Italy server. It is a global ranking

Come on ppl install Beta and come join us Come kill me if you can

What is the difference between CS:S and CS:S beta.

I seen it appear in my steam list and could not understand why they would release a beta for a game which has already been out for so many years lol.

Care to enlighten anyone?

It's to test new features before they update the original, right? If I'm not mistaken, they're doing the same thing with TF2.

Testing balance issues with the game / new content. The TF2 beta is different, they just test weapon damage and effect adjustments instead of new content.
