The WF is the single biggest building that has the most spots to plant nukes on. Its the hardest to search and so on and so forth. The roof area alone houses a few good spots to plant it.

Nah the best place to plant is on the little lip on the front, not the one you drop off and theres a slope, but its narrow outer walkway witch you cant just fit on.

i guess that is a better spot, since that ledge is soo.. small, it would be harder for alot of techies to get on it. also lag could make u fall, and failed the mission. or on the GDI's Point of view. Lag moves them off the ledge and then they fall. Its gonna be hard for both sides. Since i never tried it i dont know if it that is hard. Let me try it!BTW, a sniper sees u, ur dead!

Another good place in the WF... directly behind the little console near the window. I've seen people run in and out of the factory looking for it when it's there, one guy saw it from inside the little vehicle-creation place (I call it "the garage..." lol) and tried to defuse it through the window, which of course, doesn't work that's one of my favorite spots. I planted it there once and watched 2 engineers slide off and fall =P It's so funny.
