"Jackass" star Ryan Dunn died in a car crash in Pennsylvania early this morning ... TMZ has confirmed with Bam Margera's mother.

34-year-old Dunn appeared in all of the "Jackass" movies -- famously shoving a toy car into his rectum in the first flick back in 2002.

Dunn and an unidentified person both died in the crash which happened around 3 a.m. at Route 322 and New Street in West Goshen Township. It's unclear who was driving the car.

We're told the car caught fire in the crash -- and hours later, a tow truck was called to the scene to remove the charred wreckage.

Just hours before his death, Dunn posted a photo on Twitter showing himself drinking with friends.

Story developing ...

Socialist. LOL!

Point out when there was a real socialist government in our country. Closest we've come is Paars, but that was pretty much progressive centrum politics.

Oh, not to mention, only dumb people need to generalize everything and everyone, because otherwise they cannot understand.

And to respond seriously to your claims: working earns you around 30% more than not working. Minimum wage * 70% is what you get when the government needs to support you.

Edit: One last thing, as spyder asked, what makes you so awesome and useful in this world?

I work, i go to school, work a shitload on my own company. I am not allowed to get money from the DUO. Got a apartment in Rotterdam. Almost all the things i have or use is paid out of my own pocket actually. Except for school. I still pay 1600 a year. I go to school 20/30 hours a week i still manage to work 40 hours. 20 for the company i work for and 20 for my own little business.

Thats makes me awesome in this world.

Why should someone want to leave Holland right now.
Finally the VVD is actually doing something about our finance system. The last cabinet was that bad that they fell how many times? 3/4 ?

Also Rutte seems like a guy who can get things done, i found Balkenende a good prime minister, but because of the mess inside the second chamber, he was not able to get plans in practise.

Jan Kees de Jager is also a hero in my view when it comes up to te problems in Greece.

There is actually one thing that emberrase me about this formation, and that is that the PVV. They just give Holland a bad name. And thats dangerous for our international relations.

I disagree with the VVD doing something about the finance system. Yes they're imposing rigorous budget cuts, but meanwhile they leave some very important issues unanswered.

Issues like Hypotheek rente aftrek, which costs the government a lot more money that they're saving on schools and universities, the huursubsidie and some other things combined. It needs to be adjusted, if not disappear completely.

If the VVD was a real liberal party then they would do something about it, as it's government meddling in the open market. This has caused prices to go up tremendously and is one of the primary reasons for mortgages in which people do not pay off their debt exists. Not paying off their mortgage is actually cheaper than paying it off with the HRA.

The only ones really benefiting from this arrangement are the banks, the same banks we've just bailed out.

From my point of view the VVD is about privatizing the profits and socializing the loses.
