In many games, I spend 3/4 of the game just being a hottie or Techie. Therefore, I have whatever cash the harvy brings, and what i make repairing. So, in the last 10 mins, I have the most money of all my teammates. So, then i buy free tanks for my team. I say: "Free med first one there its yours" or "FREE MRLS MY TREAT" etc,..Why does everybody only buy tanks for theirselves? I love buying tanks for my teammates! Is this a good strat or am i wasting my money?Oh, and I often buy a PIC Sydney and just shoot tanks the whole game and then buy more tanks for my team. Good maps to use this strat: Mesa, Hourglass, Field, Under and City_Flying. So, the question comes down to:Should I buy tanks for my teammates, the time I do it most is when our Ref is gone and i have lots of repairing money. Should I save it for me, buy tanks for me, or buy tanks for team?? Thanks for the help, I just want to ask. If youve played with me every now and then, you should know what im talking about.. . . What do you guys think?

Of course it good to buy vehicles to your team.BUT!Make sure your teammates actually TAKE them. I was playing on Islands map today, we attacked the GDI base, got ref, but then they blew our tanks. Well, we found 3 (THREE!) empty med tanks from the enemy base, we took them and razed WF too.

Man. But mainly my team is craving vechs. They all run as soon as one comes out of WF/Airstrip. I had five people try to get in the same MRLS i built for them.

It could be a good tactic, if the player can use the tank correctly. But if they can't use it properly, it's a waste of credits.

Yea i agree you should buy tank 4 people who dont have enough money, but when someone take a tank u've just purchased without telling you (tank stealing) that *es me off.

I just enjoy buying tanks for ppl and repairing them. Besides, my team can use it better than I can. But, I never buy Orca's or Apache's or Mammy's, or Heli Transport. I find all aircraft are shot down far too quickly, and Mammy's deal as much points as they make.

I spend most of my games as a Hottie or a Tech too, but I sometimes grab a vehicle for myself...just because every little vehicle counts out there sometimes, especially on maps like Field. However, I'm not afraid to get destroyed either - simply because I can pop out and start repairing other tanks and vehicles.I don't usually buy vehicles for people just because I don't want them to go unused or abused on the non-defense maps. If we're in desperate straits though, I'll probably do it just to get a rush going at the very end.

I use this strategy all the time. But I save all my credits until around the last 15 to 20 minutes and buy an armada for my team then we go rush. But i also have a limited amount of time online so i will spend all the credits i have on vehicles when i have to leave.

On Hourglass, I was a Sydney PIC half of the game, and when I finally died I had around 4500. So I bought 2 mammy's and 2 meds, and got my team to rush over the hill. We won by that rush And I often buy tanks for my team before I leave a game, sort of a goodbye gift
