I was playing against my friend one on one, generally just messing about on Hourglass. We put friendly fire on and i destroyed my OB, and he destroyed his AGT. So then i told him to get a Hummy while i get a Buggy so we can race and fly of the tunnel entrance ramp at the bottom of each hill! And he said "Well buy me a buggy cause they are faster than Hummys" That true?

And it's easier to control a humvee too, although if you're good with the buggy, you can do some neat driving and shooting.

I dont like the humvee, at the cost of 50 bucks more than a buggy means gdi needs to wait longer than nod to bust them out, the 50 points of health dont make much of a difference.

Are you sure that the Nod buggy is faster? In Renegade editor, they have the same settings that deal with speed, such as the mass, drag coefficient and torque. I would figure that they would be the same speed.

I have a Screen shot laying around somewhere of the time I got bored in MP practice and parked 8 humvees in the barracks.
