Remember, when 4.0 comes, they wont work right out of the box...

The building bar debate is a load of bollocks. They shouldn't be blocked from 4.0 because a small minority of the community whine about them.

Who said anything about blocking? It's due to code changes.

They are not blocked specifically, they just don't work with 4.0 and coding in support for them would open the door for cheats and require significantly more development and testing time. Hence 4.0 doesn't support them.

My apologies for making an assumption.
