We have just released the next build of Scripts 4.0 to private beta testers. Due to the amount of changes in this build, we want some private beta testing before we give it to the world (and especially the servers)

Due to changes in this build, players using the public build of 4.0 will not be able to join the TT server and will receive an error if they attempt to do so.

LOL. I'd give him some slack; liquid's already breathing down his neck in every topic he posts in.

Anyway, good job guys.

If Xpert didn't make that comment, I would have done so. Or liquid.

But, lets not give this faggot too many credit and lets stick to the topic at hand here.

Good job guize!
