I was recently banned by [Mia]Liquid on jelly server marathon for " team killing".   I was told that team killing is killing your own team mates, example: pushing them out in the open to get their tank etc. blown up.

However THIS IS NOT what i was doing. I was riding shotgun in a light tank as a technican, with the airstrip being destroyed. I was getting in and out repairing my friends vehicle so that we could defend the base.

Then i was warned not to " team kill".

I continued to ride in the light tank repairing it, defending the base etc.

Then i was banned for 13000 hours for " team killing."

It's messed up.. I would like some support if anyone could help me out.   [Mia]Liquid your a power abusing deutch bag making the WRONG assumptions.

It's more of common internet sense... if you need to find something, try google first.

Furthermore, general common sense for gaming- if you're banned from a server or have a beef with a moderator from a server, find that particular server's forums or admin before venting to the general community for the game.

What do you mean by "jewed" in your topic title? I am genuinely curious.

i already talked to him about this on the jelly forums, he successfully made his way over apparently he was unaware that he was teamkilling or teamdamaging shit; it happened so many times that i just kicked him rather than trying to warn or !qkick him he also wasn't the first person that day to do it, and generally i assume that if someone knows how to teamkill something they should know not to do it or that it's probably not allowed as far as i know he's already able to get back in the server and to answer your question starbuzz, apparently jewed = kicked jewed tends to mean 'To get screwed over or cheated out of something.'

Wait, I'm confused. How does hopping in and out of a light tank cause his team to take damage?

I know about the glitch when you fire the cannon and jump out, the shot becomes neutral and then damages anything... but he said he was in the passenger seat and passengers don't have access to the cannon unless the driver gives it to them.

what he says and what the server reports back to me are two different things i went by the latter in this case you weren't teamkilling like that guy, you were doing the double damage glitch to the other team you cited that you were "lagging" and that that's why it kept happening

i'm not sure jewing you would have changed anything in the long run

Good old time when I was banned for a short time due BIATCH and lag whereas it thought my Light Tank was shooting Volt Rifle warhead type ammo or something close that (just when BIATCH was test used on Fnfall afaik 2 years ago).

I've actually got a ban history but mostly all backed up by proof I didn't cheat (unlucky and suspicious I guess) and unbanned

Edit: Random post is pretty random.

Question: can a player get jewed by a moderator if the moderator is actually Jewish?

I think a better question would be: is possible for a Jewish moderator to jew someone without actually jewing them?

I'm Jewish (secular, though), and it's likely someone that I've banned at Black-Cell years ago may have claimed I jewed him when I really didn't.

Hm, so instead of denigrating the gypsies (e.g. "What a gyp!"), he denigrates my people. I MUST CALL THE ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE NOW!

Depending on if it's a script that does the auto ban; it would be possible for it to glitch and ban someone for repairing a person if all the script is doing is checking who damaged (keep in mind repair counts as damage) a person last.

to clarify no one was banned; a guy was kicked, and it wasn't by a bot he wasn't aware that he was hitting friendlies with neutral shells

"jewed" by a renegade moderator?

Apparently antisemitism is fine in these forums.

First time, in a long time that I've seen Black-Cell mentioned on here. Bravo.
