You'll have to move your input file into the new tt renegade client folder, then your changes will be applied.

Use that input file and paste it into the tt client dir (it can be found in always.dat using XCC or RenegadeEX).

If you have Windows XP, you can find scripts 4.0's input01.cfg here:

C:\Documents and Settings\<usernamegoeshere>\My Documents\Renegade\Client

If you have Windows Vista or 7, you'll find it in the equivalent Documents folder. That's also where the client chat logs go now. See page 2 of the sticky:

You need to edit hud.ini, see this topic.

Put the entries in hud.ini, not tt.ini. That topic was discussing the move from tt.ini to hud.ini, but the latter is the correct place in beta2 (and later).
