gsa is dead now, I suggest you get rr, <http://icefinch.net/> , to connect to servers then I suggest you to get 3.4.4. if you want to play on most servers but most active servers I would suggest you to get 4.0

Use renlist instead of rr, if you don't want to use wol/xwis.

Did you install RR after installing 4.0? You should just install 4.0 then download RenList to find servers via the GSA list.

I just got windows 7 ultimate, and haven't had a problem with 4.0 at all... so 4.0 is your best bet...

:unless you're trying to screw with renegade some how.... hinT hinT.

And if you're using that, rellist thing... time to upgrade to RenDirCon..... yes RenDirCon google it.. use it... live it... You're using a client based off the installer... Old tech gets left behind, rellist needs to "katch-em-all-upons"... ya dig?

4.0 is separate... RenDirCon still work because it is standalove..... yeesh...

Renlist works perfectly fine still, you can get it here.

RenDirList is only a direct connect client (as far as I can tell anyways), it only works when you know the ip and port of the server you want to connect to. Renlist actually lists all the servers on WOL/XWIS (provided you have a valid serial) and GSA.

That's a really new server and yeah I see people banned on other servers (including people I caught) play on it.

If you want to have a cheater free experience join St0rm's AOW 4.0 only server.
