I had so much fun on 1 of the Dominion servers. Im not that great of a player but, GDI lost PP to a Nod attack on Hourglass, I went stealth guy, didnt have money for Nuke. snuck into GDI base all the way to Refer. smoked one Engineer on the way. destroyed TiB Refer by myself with just laser and one TC4 charge on MCT.I never did that online before. Total Rush. then next map, Canyon. GDI team, I rushed tunnel to balcony over refer and TC4 tossed off balcony, I was grenader guy, emptied my grenades onto the refer. Refer destroyed by myself again, (I had a Heavy minigunner covering my back). That was it though, I stunk rest of game LOL. [September 23, 2002, 23:21: Message edited by: garth8422]

In both cases I didnt see anyone else hitting those buildings, but it was possible that they were. In the first one Nod was all over GDI baseHitting AGT and Weap for sure. maybe a round or two may have come my way? second one Im pretty sure it was just me because GDI was still in the open area hitting airstrip with MRLS and tanks still. although I dont know for sure, when I proclaimed the kill online, no teammates contested it.

Actually, any free character can destroy a building by themselves, it just takes a lot of patience and a really stupid enemy .

Are you saying that you destroyed the Refinery alone with a Grenedier? I am sure you were instrumental, but your team probably blew it from the inside. Sorry, but grenedier's just don't pack enough wallop. (no one free character can destroy a building- by design, though engies come close)Regardless, sounds like you were a productive member of the team. Good work
