Probably because there is nobody else from Saint-Hubert Quebec who hacks and evades so many bans...

He is also posting about 6 words per post on average, which is almost exactly the same as his median word count.

Isn't the topic title on the OP currently about whether C4Smoke = Pentagonmaster at this time of writing? Do you want to stay in the topic?

If you insist, let me put this in the mix. <http://www.renz0r.com/forum/showthread.php?t=2997>

Love how he keeps editing his previous posts when he realizes how moronic they make him look. Shame the modified posts are just as stupid as the originals.

Perhaps... do they let you play PC games in Canadian mental institutions?

I have never checked if it is allowed. I will rather let someone else who would like to answer this question. Do you think I am in a mental institution? Do you think that I feel insulted if that is your intent? Would not I rather care for more important things like the families, friends and those in need? Of what? Will you use your intuition on the question previous the other question? Do you think that I take this topic seriously and if yes, how? Do you think that I am judging you? Thanks for the lessons that you may bring especially if I haven't learned them.

Canada is one big mental institution and we've all been committed.
