Did you export all the animated parts as bones?

ok i create 2 bones, create a renegade skin, animated the bones and added them to the skin then i binded the mesh to the bones and export it, after that i located a proxi in my terrain mesh and named it as the animated object, i export the terrain from LE as a mix, test in game and the object display in the right location but doesnt play any animation. the animation plays fine in w3d viewer though, it also play just fine in game wile exporting the object as a crate. is there something i am missing wile seting up the proxi?

How did you setup the preset for your object? The animation is controlled by the animation type in the preset settings.
