Crashdump: http://www.freefilehosting.net/crashdump20120610-193252-r4914-n1

I was flying over the left building on city-flying with Apache fighting the tangos on pp side. My FPS went straight down and renegade crashed. I couldn't do anything to escape to the desktop so I powered down the laptop. You can see if you can reproduce it. I personally think it has to do with beta 5 and not something that can be reproduced.

I just had a quick look and it seems graphics related; something for Saberhawk to look at.

I may have to turn down my graphics a little bit.

I don't expect that will work, but it is possible.

YesNoMayb:
What graphics card do you have?
What version of Windows are you using? (OS and service pack)
What graphics card drivers are you using? (and what version)
