Since this seems to be all the rage now, here's a dll that will block spam of radio commands serverside. 5 commands per 10 secs.

4.0b5

major credit to iran for the method

I fail to see whats so amusing about a guy finding exploits, sharing these exploits and then using them to annoy the crap out of players.

I failed to see how going on a crusade of "anti-cheat is the way" was noble while running triggerbot, but that's just me I guess.

Not the entire Jelly mod team, thankfully.

Some of them have looked at the bigger picture.

I fail to see whats so amusing about me still posting in a forum where I'm not wanted, annoying the shit out of the few people that don't have me ignored by pretending to be the white knight of Renegade whilst simultaneously jacking off and using triggerbot in Multiplayer Practice.

I'll stop it in court; you're using my trademarked name for it!

I'm gonna pull an Apple, and you're samsung

HEE.

cricket cricket

Edit: Updated the first post with a link to a new version which does check for VALID radio commands in addition to flood protection
