I played a fun 2v2 for the first time with Hitman against crush and mrhero.

The dumbass public server reflexes just won't do for these CW type games and I got to, for the first time, experience a small sample of it.

I was just following precise orders but holy shit the pace is so fucking fast that I actually felt some demoniac spirit get into my body and take control of my fingers and eyeballs lol! I was even using pistol more accurately than I normally would care to do lol.

I have been playing since January 2007 and I thought I had seen all City_Flying can offer but holy shit! I was like some cyborg pilot lol all hooked into TS and my eyes and head glued to the monitor. I had NEVER played ANY computer game in my life with this much focus and awareness (still sucked lol).

Hitman was Med/Havoc and I was Orca/Hotwire right side near Nod tib fighting mrhero's Light/Sak and I could not even look in one direction for too long as Hitman was telling me to watch out for crush's Apache trying to rush our PP. It was Hitman who spotted the Apache rushing while despite my best efforts, totally missed it...my situational awareness is shitty rubbish! This is some whole new level lol!

It was so intense you would have to experience these things!

I made this topic because until a few hours ago, I never understood WHY exactly it's impossible for a public player to be as talented as a CW-fellow. Not a chance in hell! So hopefully other public players can get some idea from what I found out tonight.

It won't really matter how BADASS a public player is and if he really kicks some ass...he would still be a number 2 behind a CW player. I am basing all my opinions after seeing Hitman play.

We played about three maps before SHTF and I had to leave but big sincere thanks to Hitman for the invite. Cheers to crush and mrhero too.

a cw player is going to do better in a smaller game setting than a public player however, not all cw players can do anything in public games they play too many small games and can't shake the mindset i'm glad your renecherry busted all over the floor though

LOL you have not experienced much yet lol Those were just some fun 2v2 matches where hero and I sing One Direction while we play.

But you can definitely seen a new grasp of intensity because there is only 2 people and much more has to be done instantly without thought.

It gets better. You just got a taste for it. Should find yourself a steady partner starbuzz if you want to keep playing and then it will be a lot more fun.

clanwars players are the best in A N Y situation, they understand the game more than anybody, i have been saying this for years (not talking about wannabe clanwar players who played like 20 games over a 5 year period)

u probably see lots of former clanwars.cc players fuck around in public (like me) and u think they're playing at their best level, but its not even close lol there are so many people in jelly server that people can just afford to lack skill, there will always be an army behind him to back him up, in clanwars u dont have that, u got like 1 guy on your team, u gotta get your shit together and get the job done, not hope a fellow noob will come to save u public 10 people stank rushes require skill if they're so good, why do they get chewed up and spat out? they're too impatient they probably tried being good and couldn't transition to public play, so they gave up and started doing dumb shit instead i've seen plenty of clanwars players do well in public games, but to say that every clanwar player can and will own all those public noobs and be the best is incorrect the dozens of clanwars people i've seen over the years didn't do so well in public servers you have a few that learn to play in it (yourself, Spooky, TiDeTh, Wrs, ZeLL, etc.), but the majority of them just kind of sucked or were average even simpee doesn't do much in big games lol they just kind of run around with ramjets a lot or try solo apc rushes or do nerdy things on their own that never works because there's more than 3 players on the other team if they have the capacity to do better it doesn't show seems too much of a coincidence to me

Yeah you're right, clanwar players are fucking terrible.

When the server is full, ask the players who they think the players are and post it on the forums, I'll tell you how many of them have a clanwar/funwar history.

Any team with a clanwar player that is actually bothering, playing from the start, has a 75% chance to win, no matter how many players (unless you've got like fucking 60+)

Any team with two clanwar players that are actually bothering, playing from the start, not working together, 90% chance to win.

Any team with two clanwar players that are actually bothering, playing from the start, working together, 95% to win.

Any team with three clanwar players that are actually bothering, playing from the start, working together, 100% chance to win.

TilDeTh did better than simpee in public games that's a fact; why are you arguing lmao you weren't even there and yet you're defending him like your life depends on it i'm sure simpee is better than TilDeTh at clanwars, but that fact didn't carry over into public games

i can't remember every specific clanwars person that i saw get molested in public games over the years i've never seen Wiggles actually do well at anything, even in com wars and whatnot - i'm sure he's capable of more, but it didn't transition

HeAT got mad because i kept raping him in Jelly 1 back in the day - he challenged me to a 1v1!!!!

all the SoQ guys did alright, but they were pretty average overall Whiskey always seemed to lose pub games lol, trying or not troopr02 did better than the average player, but i wouldn't call him good in all honesty, FinalRen (orca) did better than 4 out of 5 "good" clanwars people that made their way into public games he did things you never could (not saying you're bad HTMN)

i like how MUDKIPS has magical stats - probably has proof to back them up too!

You do learn far more in clanwars than playing public servers.

Every little 1v1 in a clanwars matters, whether its a pistol fight at the start or a tank battle, lose that 1v1 and your team is in the shit. In a public server that isn't really the case, I know you'll get the odd tech rush etc where 1 pistol fight makes a difference, but in the main if you kill 1 dude there's another right behind him.

Someone who learns their skills in clanwars could adapt to public servers quicker than the opposite. You learn how to pistol, fly, tank, mine etc because it all matters. The skills you learn from learning to win all these little battles make a world of difference in a public server. You don't rely on having 3 techs on your arty, learning to to dodge and repair mid-battle is something the majority of pub players still can't do, yet it's second nature to a clanwar player.

I've played both for as long as I can remember on this game, and I can say 100% the shit I learned playing in cw's made me a much better player than just playing public servers.

I used to play both actively, so I got a balanced view of both facets of the game and what involved in each.

You also just learn not to bother as much in public since people do such boring and retarded shit like, camp certain spots, sbh all game, dont care about harv, block, and an unending list of stupid shit people do.

Then you aren't on edge because people aren't constantly attacking you, and doing everything they can to kill you, you aren't as quick and you aren't as good. cw players aren't as good in public as in cw games, but they are STILL better than pub players.

It's just not really worth the effort bothering when people are playing with the intent not to win the game, but with the intent just not to die.

STFU MUDKIPS

CLANWAR PLAYERS SUCK CAUSE THEY HAVE A LIMITED VIEW ON RENNY, SO THEY NOT GOOG NUFF TO PLAY PUBLIC

they play the best players to ever play this game, got more overall knowledge about the game than a public nod/gdi team combined, better tanking & infantry skill, way quicker thinking, but they can not do decent let alone good in a public server, where 30% of the people are under 12 years old (translates to tib sydney's, rocket troopers and chem warriors), 30% is sniping all game long, just sittin on that wall with no intention to progress in the game, 20% is SBH doing nothing all game long, or just plain AFK, and the other 20% is playing their best to win the game, but have absolutely no teamplay or good individual skill (no, i dont call saying "GET STANKS MEET BEHIND HON" actual teamplay) pretty sure that after you play clanwars on a high level, you'll think public is just a joke, and u dont even try to play serious anymore, along with nearly everybody in the server, that is why i dont think you have a clue on what you're argueing about, liquid...

i been getting mvp*5 and so on 6+ years ago, pretty sure everybody who ever played abit of clanwars was at their peak easily as good as i was back then ps: i was/am better than orca, but sure enough, he was a better flyer than me, which is probably why i sniped in clanwars and was at one point probably the best AOW sniper to play

Jelly has always had clanwars players involved in it; the owner/creator was from clanwars.cc lol how is that argument valid? JELLY ONLY WON BECAUSE A FRACTION OF ITS TEAM PLAYED IN CLANWARS ALSO clanwars.cc (100% clanwars players) vs. Jelly (~50% clanwars players) if clanwars players are the best, why didn't clanwars.cc win every single com match ever? they've always had 100% of clanwars players on their teams the team with the most of the best players should win - why wasn't that the case?

You don't rely on having 3 techs on your arty, learning to to dodge and repair mid-battle is something the majority of pub players still can't do, yet it's second nature to a clanwar player.

most definitely true

i'm just surprised as to why these well-practiced players didn't come out on top all the time when the games weren't 3v3 or smaller Hitman wrote on Sat, 22 September 2012 07:34playing public makes u worse if anything lol too many dumbasses that are just too easy to hit, u get used to it and when u play an experienced player, u'll be in trouble not a bad point

that's part of what added to my confusion and surprise, seeing these highly trained rene-pros unable to dominate or clean house

Hitman wrote on Sat, 22 September 2012 08:43CLANWAR PLAYERS SUCK CAUSE THEY HAVE A LIMITED VIEW ON RENNY, SO THEY NOT GOOG NUFF TO PLAY PUBLIC it seems i've struck a nerve i'm not doubting that clanwars players are good at what they do i just find it hard to believe that every single one of them (aside from a handful) were able to be considered some of the best in public games

Spoony, who you might think sucks at clanwars compared to some other players, did far, far better in public games than 95% of clanwars players explain that one, sir ANGRYMN47

i think, as far as renehistory is concerned, orca is or will be remembered as being better than you (HTMN)

not saying you suck or anything like that Spoony is the only one who actually cared about every game he played even in a public server. I know that for a fact, that is why he did better than all the others.

He tried to coach everyone to play, get meds and shit all the time.

i think, as far as renehistory is concerned, orca is or will be remembered as being better than you (HTMN)

"HTMN does well, but much of the time he's just doing silly stuff to make himself happy" but even then, even his best cw friend ioncloud said he thinks im better, i could do ALOT better in public, maybe now u can jumpstart me into trying my best in public but i doubt i'll play serious for more than 5 games in a row, it gets boring really fast public is just a clusterfuck of bad players, therefor not a single one of those guys could ever win a clanwar, because they just dont know what to do, they want to be backed up by alot of retards who also dont know how to do, have no desire for teamplay, and generally just have very very poor skills in both infantry and tanks, but since they have so many noobs rolling out shooting quite randomly, there are so many bullets flying out there that it actually does work lol anyways, an example of what generally happens when i play serious in public:

its impossible to have the exact impact on pub as u have on a clanwar, in pub you randomly join the game, there's more than likely 7 double teched arties/ an army of meds and havocs/pic's out there, no teamplay on any team(arty teching/stank rush is the best teamwork a pub player is capable of) so how on earth is anyone gonna kill 7 double teched arties when he's pretty much on his own in a completly uncoordinated team? you'll have to hotwire rush through a tunnel or so, but it'll be filled with atleast 5 sbh/mobiuses/gunners/... and 5 snipers, pretty much impossible to get through, aswell, still there are some ways that you can get the job done, but you have to be resourceful and just seize every chance you get to make the difference as an individual so your benchmarks for making just as much of an impact in public as in a clanwar, are quite impossible to meet in a fair amount of the situations ps: thx for iran for providing this piece of public screenshot material, which illustrates just how poorly public is organised, if organised at all lol how can u even take shit like this serious, liquid? like i said its a clusterfuck of 50 barely average renegade players thrown into a map that is by far too small for 50 players to play on they excel 100% in small games, where they practice and have played for years the bigger the game, however, the less of an impact they actually make if clanwars players are the best ever, why has cw.cc lost community matches on multiple occasions?

sorry; i wasn't aware that the only thing that counts in Renegade is clanwars which seems rather silly, considering the game is designed for 16vs16 ask i0n if there's any chance on earth of you outflying orca Hitman wrote on Sun, 23 September 2012 10:09anyways, an example of what generally happens when i play serious in public:

well played

it seems your team had a few more players that were actually trying that game, but you clearly did more than any of them

Hitman wrote on Sun, 23 September 2012 10:09its impossible to have the exact impact on pub as u have on a clanwar, in pub you randomly join the game, there's more than likely 7 double teched arties/ an army of meds and havocs/pic's out there, no teamplay on any team(arty teching/stank rush is the best teamwork a pub player is capable of) so how on earth is anyone gonna kill 7 double teched arties when he's pretty much on his own in a completly uncoordinated team? you'll have to hotwire rush through a tunnel or so, but it'll be filled with atleast 5 sbh/mobiuses/gunners/... and 5 snipers, pretty much impossible to get through, aswell, still there are some ways that you can get the job done, but you have to be resourceful and just seize every chance you get to make the difference as an individual of course a 2v2 is different than a larger game; why on earth would you expect them to work the same way?

you say it's impossible, and yet Spooky could do it are you saying he's better than you?

just because 3v3 or 2v2 tactics don't work doesn't mean a better player won't win more often just because it's harder doesn't mean a good player can't fight through it or find a way around it sometimes you can't, but is that a reason to dodge it altogether? i'm sure the best players do not

Hitman wrote on Sun, 23 September 2012 10:09so your benchmarks for making just as much of an impact in public as in a clanwar, are quite impossible to meet in a fair amount of the situations the way i see it, the best players will win more than other players they'll find a way to win through it if your argument is true, which states that clanwars players are so good that they can't handle a game size bigger than a 3v3 because they're too impatient, then that seems to work against them players like Got2bRoni probably win more bigger games than a lot of your favorite 2v2 people ever could, which means he's better than they are at public games

Hitman wrote on Sun, 23 September 2012 10:09ps: thx for iran for providing this piece of public screenshot material, which illustrates just how poorly public is organised, if organised at all lol renegade players thrown into a map that is by far too small for 50 players to play on i think a good player, in the long run, would be better at turning those kinds of games into a win for example, i joined a Walls_Flying game the other day when Nod was down 2 players most of Nod was running around with basic infantry because it couldn't afford anything GDI had killed the harv and was swarming the base with early APCs (literally, like 4 of them came in) i destroyed two of them myself and saved two buildings by killing the people that got inside before they could get remotes off after that i got an arty and warded off the med tanks and hotwires sneaking all over the place had i not been there, GDI would have won that game in less than 10 minutes to say that one player makes no difference is foolish, at best in the long run the stats will prove otherwise (unless you want to argue with both myself and MUDKIPS about that) if my team isn't really going to teamplay (NEVER will happen in pub) or play at their best level(tunnel snipe, 24/7 sbh/...), im very likely not to go all out in trying to beat the enemy, because the match on itself is just stupid and pretty much pointless, imo its not even close to an actual all out competitive game of renegade as to how it should be played, which is pretty much the sum up of what clanwars is all about (talking any number of players in the clanwar here, not just 2v2's or 3v3's) and im pretty sure i already said orca was definatly a better flyer than me, that is why i was a sniper in clanwars, and had someone else fly instead of me

EDIT: " but sure enough, he was a better flyer than me, which is probably why i sniped in clanwars"

i'd say we can organise a game to get this settled but im quite afraid there are very few clanwar players left

make less sense

To be clear, as a senior mod, if a full mod bans you for "I don't like the way you use your tank," yes, I'm going to remove the ban, because that's fucking stupid. But full mods (or half or trial) cannot remove other moderator's bans, because that's not their job and it tends to get people pissed at each other over stupid shit.

so because not everyone is trying their hardest you're not going to try at all? sounds like a winning attitude!

the way i see it, the best players will do whatever they can to win, whether it looks likely or not, and whether their teammates are good or bad in some situations, it cant be done, most of the time it can but requires quite some rene effort, and generally i cant be fucked, cause i hardly consider public a competitive game, i have explained why before, sure enough every player that was ever considered good(poison, me,spoonY,...) on clanwars, would have a giant impact on public server(if he went all out, offcourse) pretty tired of this discussion, but i can tell you the average clanwar player definatly does better by quite alot, than the average public player, in any game type (public or cw)

"I can't disprove you, but if I say you suck at Renegade I don't have to!"

i've played this game once or twice the most annoying HTMN-related thing i can remember was him get a deadeye as Complex started and running up top and headshooting every Nod tech as they ran to their arties no one even tried stopping him (aside from me), and by the time i finally killed him and someone on Nod actually got into a vehicle the rest of GDI was in the base with a legion of meds and apcs do you remember when you and blue14bel were playing 24/7 and playing clanwars like crazy and you forced me to 2v2 you with some random guy? do you remember when you lost to me on we all can have a bad rene day if i start losing, or get annoyed, i'll play quite alot worse than i normally do in a cw or even in public as i have said many many times before, i never 1v1, played like 10 in my entire renegade career, im sure anyone got quite a chance to win vs me lol, it nearly all comes down to spawns and maybe the first tank fight, after that its pretty much a done deal, the one who kills the first harv wins, again basically decided by spawns lol, which is basically illustrating why lots of 'random' clanwar players won a 1v1 tournament at one point, i think even karmai made it into the finals on one of those lol glad to hear the most annoying thing about me is that on complex i basically win the game for my teams because i render all their tanks useless, and waste their creds, giving them free way to run in, u trying to help me here?

am i better than spoony @ 1v1 when i let him get 400 off in my base, sit in his base with shooter, let him buy flamer, and kill him as he runs for it? i dont think so... just illustrating how gay 1v1's can be but anyways, you're right, i am terrible, that's probably why i have been in (just about) every top 5 clan to ever play the game ps: congrats on winning 1 game vs me in your entire renecareer played him canyon and field lol, canyon i was all over him, he finally killed my med after killing strip, saw him chase me with a raveshaw, just bought a mammy and he rolled in and stole it, sheer ignorance, if i took 1v1's 100% serious i would of killed his rave first, not even thinking about buying mammy, got into the mammy and kill the rest of his base... i was just bored as fuck and crush wanted to play, on field he somehow had 260 points from killing harv with c4's, and 1 clip of nades... didnt even notice the server gave 2/3 creds a sec, so i roll up my arty to mid field, as i cross the bridge in middle crush is right there with a med, he killed me, then i pretty much left why lie, hitman? that was a 2v1 and you know it. you were gdi wallsfly in a 2v1. gdi wallsfly in a 1v1 is almost an automatic win, so it would be fucking embarrassing for you if you didn't win a 2v1 no matter how good your opponent, and it shows a massive insecurity on your part that you even mention that game to try to make any point at all.

lol? uhhh i stole your flamer, u had no money left im pretty sure, i killed your pp or ref or something, pretty sure it ended right there, even if somebody was on my team (dont recall), he obviously didnt stop you from getting off 400, which is the maximum you can get with a engineer, regardless if u think walls fly is an automatic win, i didnt do it the way u would expect that win, i just chilled at your strip, waiting for you to buy a vehicle, killed you and stole it, like i said already, rather sure the game was done right there, 2nd player on team or not.

i was only giving an example as to why i think 1v1's are stupid ps: if anything it was a 2v2, just looked at the score and neither of our team's score adds up entirely, but it doesn't really make a difference, game was over when i stole flamer why lie, hitman? why'd you say 1v1 when you know it wasn't? why're you pretending you only just noticed the team score doesn't match the individual score when that was why you cropped the screenshot in the first place?

yes gdi does fucking own wallsfly 1v1 (got a challenge for anybody, name an occasion when a decent player has been gdi on wallsfly 1v1 and didn't win; to my knowledge it's only ever happened once and that was almost certainly due to massive lag), that's why I would decline a 1v1 on wallsfly. doesn't mean i would leave a public server when wallsfly comes up if there's only three people in the server, two of them being on the opposition.

btw fyi smurf win = no bragging rights. i've offered you 1v1s before in friendly spirit and you always said no. fine, i wouldn't call you a dodger or w.e. but now here you are boasting about a game which -a- you know wasn't a 1v1 though you pretend it was, -b- you edit the screenshot to hide that fact (and you glaringly omit the most obvious fact that it was gdi wallsfly) and -c- you were on a smurf name so no bragging rights anyway.

sorry for offending you mister spoony, didn't think you'd be getting this upset for nothing, probably haven't been in a argument for a while so u thought u might aswell make one out of thin air?

Can you not read? and it wasn't a 2v1 to begin with, 2v2, I already said, anyways: neither of our teammates were doing jackshit, my 'teammate' certainly didn't stop you from getting off 400, then you buy a flamer and I steal it, tough shit, the game ended right there, but you can take these other people in the server in account if you want, but they did nothing whatsoever that influenced the game (how can they have, when they actually did nothing other than roll in your base while you got 1 building left, lol?) it even shows how much of a difference one move (stealing flamer) can have on a 2v2... pretty sure it would have a bigger impact on a 1v1 and again: I never posted this screenshot to boast about anything, I was trying to make a point that 1v1's are generally gay and a lot of times luck/spawns decides who wins the games thanks for showing just how little you know about 1v1s, if you can't see how being against two people instead of one might make your decisions different as far as i was concerned the game ended when the map started on wallsfly and the gdi team had two players to the nod team's one, but by all means try to prove whatever dumbass point you like by referencing events in a game that was decided long before i bought the flamer; just try to be a bit more honest about it in future

Quote:and again: i never posted this screenshot to boast about anything, i was trying to make a point that 1v1's are generally gay and alot of times luck/spawns decides who wins the games
HI, 1V1S ARE STUPID, AND TO PROVE MY POINT I'LL POST AN EDITED SS FROM A PUBLIC SERVER WHEN IT WAS NOT 1V1 ON A MAP NOBODY PLAYS 1V1 ON

honestly, you shouldve shut up several posts ago if you wanted a 1v1 you knew where to find me; i posted repeated open challenges, and asked you personally, and there was a perfect server available for it. you say no to that, but then you smurf in a public server when it's not 1v1, post edited ss of it and lie about what happened, and that proves 1v1s are stupid? how did you get yourself into this intellectual mess?

it was 2v2, for the 5th time...(with neither of the 2 other players doing anything) i wouldn't really call it lieing, i simply put up a screenshot to show what the consequences can be that u slip up once in a 1v1, or 2v2 (whatever u want), i might of phrased it wrong, should of put '1v1 situation' what i meant is the outcome would of been the same, my 'partner' didnt keep you from getting the maximum possible with your engineer, after u buy that flamer and i kill you and take it, if it were an actual 1v1, it would of been exactly the same, that's what i meant i dont want to play 1v1's, i was argueing about how stupid they were, actually, and i was trying to make my point showing how stupid it is that i can just chill in your base, u can get off 400 and i'll just be standing there waiting for you to buy a vehicle, then steal it and kill your base, 1v1's generally come down to those type of things, if not, it comes down to lag, spawns, boxes... and there's offcourse no teamplay, which i think this game was designed for, because of the simple fact that u are the team btw, dont pretend u basically gave up in the beginning when u saw it was '2v1', u were playing random noob wolly213(didnt know it was me untill after) and some other public guy, u thought u were going to win, just admit it already instead of acting like u were playing simpee and kill 2v1 and therefor gave up before even moving out the first time firstly, idiot, if it was an actual 1v1 it would not be on wallsfly secondly, why are you so fucking stupid that you don't realise what a MASSIVE advantage you had having the second guy in the game with you? you can't be this dumb, seriously? i mean you're fucking dumb, but you're not THAT fucking dumb.

thirdly, what does it matter whether i got my c4s off as nod? you think that means the nod player's got the advantage on wallsfly?

Quote:i dont want to play 1v1's i know you dont, you had plenty of opportunity to play a fair 1v1 on a balanced map and you rejected it, instead you smurf in public servers and post edited ss's from a 2v1 on the most unbalanced map+side and lie about what happened, saying it was a 1v1 loki and jblforce > you

Quote:i was argueing about how stupid they were, actually so why'd you post an edited ss from a game that was not a 1v1 on a map nobody plays 1v1 on?

if it were a 1v1 it would of went the same way, i would of been in the exact same place and he would of gotten off exactly 400 just like he did in this terribly unfair game of 2v1, my point was the game ended when i stole his flamer, and that showed how much a 1v1 situation can be fucked up in just a split second the chances of you winning because of lag/luck/spawns/boxes or whatever on FIELD are the slightest of all maps, on nearly all the other ones im sure they have a huge effect on who will be the winner, and even on field i've heard of some stupid shit before... things like deth7wish beating wrs because he got a 200 box and rolled in a flamer if nod feel risky send one engy all over the right, very wide, then slip in, hugging the wall tightly with a combination of luck and skill you have a marginal chance of getting 200 off if gdi gets nothing on, nod can easily roll in with lights before there can get a med or orca.

then again spoony was talking about a 1v1 anyone who thinks gdi doesn't fucking own wallsfly 1v1 might like to have a crack at answering that challenge i posed:

name an occasion when a decent player was gdi wallsfly 1v1 and didn't win to my knowledge, and my knowledge is extensive, it has only ever happened once and that was almost certainly due to massive lag. i know, cos i was the nod guy and my internet had indeed been playing up that time. if we discount that game, and i'm happy to do that, then that means that in 1v1s on wallsfly with decent players, GDI's winratio is perfect. and hitman's still whining about "but it would have gone the same way if it was a 1v1" - I would not have 1v1'd you on fucking wallsfly, hitman. You had every opportunity for a REAL 1v1 with me and you turned it down. Instead you smurf in a public server when it's 2v1 on the most unfair westwood map+side, then edit the ss and tell people it was a 1v1 when you always knew it wasn't. (it's really pathetic hearing you cry about how it would've been the same if you posted the real SS and DIDN'T lie about it; but if you really thought that, you wouldn't have edited the ss and you wouldn't have lied, would you? What would have been the point?)

Tbh, the longer you try to wriggle out of what you did here, the longer it's gonna hang over you. Just cut your losses and stop talking.

dont give me any shit about deth7 getting a 200 box, you're trying to prove a retarded point with bullshit again. 200 box? on field? k, either the server was fucked and something happened that was not supposed to happen (and would not happen in the official 1v1 server), or that didn't happen. this is the kind of evidence you want to use to prove your fucking retarded point, hitman? edited ss, deliberate lies and bullshit stories like that ^^?

pretty funny how someone can get so upset over a game he doesn't even play anymore, as i said, i might have phrased it wrong, i said that quite alot of posts ago, for the 100th time: what i was trying to point out is that it doesn't take much to turn a game around in a 1v1 situation,u can think it was a retarded point,and sure enough it definatly wasn't the best one out there but like i said before you completely over reacted and turned this into a giant thing because u didn't understand what i even posted the screenshot for in the first place,i even said if it were all a 1v1 in your supposed 1v1 server that doesn't exist, in which i stole your flamer, that still wouldn't make me better in 1v1's, that would just prove my point as to why i think its not a good type of game with the playercount that low, and i dont think a 1v1 win ratio or whatever confirms how good anyone is at this game, u can play a game of islands without ever seeing eachother, for example, its just to random and luck/lag/boxes/spawns play a too big role in them, that atleast is my opinion and sure, field is 'fair', on a 1v1 game i guess(gdi still has upperhand tho), which is probably why 1v1's were generally not played other than on that map not upset, just take a dim view of dishonesty and poor sportsmanship, and you've got way too much of both these days. quit trying to make me the bad guy, you lied and got caught, stop trying to wriggle out of it; just makes you look even more a pathetic little bitch

Quote:as i said, i might have phrased it wrong
* might have lied and got caught

Cheer up then, cos nobody plays wallsfly 1v1, and neither did we... fucking idiot if the point you were trying to prove was -a- wallsfly is absolute shit for 1v1 or

-b- a game with more than one person on a team is not a 1v1 and therefore open public servers are not the environment to play a 1v1 in then you might be on to something (i could've told you that seven or eight years ago but gj catching up) and yes that wallsfly game might have been admissible as evidence; you wouldn't even need to edit it, or lie about what happened, as you did.

instead you want to use a game in a public server which was not 1v1, on a map which is not played in 1v1 because of how ridiculously unbalanced it is, to prove 1v1s suck? there's stupid, there's bloody stupid, and there's you

Quote:and sure, field is 'fair', on a 1v1 game i guess(gdi still has upperhand tho), which is probably why 1v1's were generally not played other than on that map how do you know GDI has the advantage on field 1v1?

btw we're talking about after i fixed the pointsbug and disallowed harv block, both of which you opposed at the time, and also let's not forget the system of playing both sides.

I dont understand how u dont see how the situation we had going there at the strip, is pretty much spot on the exact situation u can get into in a 1v1, on ANY map, i dont care if it was walls fly or not, it could of been complex,sure enough in all these 1v1's that gdi won on walls fly, they had to buy their own vehicle im assuming? 1 second of not paying attention fully will cost you the game, that was my point.

I was not trying to boast about winning vs you lol, it was to make a point about why i dont like small games like that, and i've presented several points as to why i dont like em, in previous posts i made.

Who are you?

No one speaks like that.

Nothing is written in stone 'champ', thats my point perhaps you should acknowledge there are too many variables to say gdi wins 100% 'kid'.

Everything comes into it... spawns, which side the tank goes down on air, lag, where the timer lands etc.

If both players are equally good as you say they are, and one spawns well more often than not, and one doesn't.

I never said that gdi wasn't at an advantage, only that Ren is too unpredictable to make a clear cut that one side will win everytime.

1v1's are 50% skill, 50% luck on rush maps.

Ren's random nature is what has kept so many people playing it for so long despite the many issues the game has.

I'm bored of this conversation, go masturbate over pointfix topics or whatever it is you do when you're not busy being close minded and ignorant on forums.

your point might be true, but your example in no way supports it lol a 2v1 with the one player on the disadvantaged team isn't a good way of proving 1v1s are dumb regarding what NuneGa said, Spoony isn't saying GDI always wins all the time he did say, however, that GDI on Walls_Flying is basically a sure GDI victory in a 1v1 situation we have two instances in how many years of GDI not winning? not sure what your point is, especially when your win sounds like a freak accident and the other win was most likely due to lag/internet issues

Yes, it is a VERY rewarding feeling to achieve something in the game, whether it's never losing your tank in a cw, hottying a building in a full pub server or running a 10+ k/d in a sniper server

Also the engine is fucking hilarious and I've never laughed at a game as much as Renegade lol. Blue hell, flaming vehicles/infantry, wf bug, people getting stuck in eachother, flipped vehicles, accidental cloaked sbh headshots, etc.

The game is great.

Maybe you should respond to what I actually said instead of what I didn't say, eh?

Quote:Everything comes into it... spawns, which side the tank goes down on air, lag, where the timer lands etc.

in this case, the only example anybody's been able to find of GDI losing wallsfly 1v1 (aside from me vs d0me when i had a laggy-ass cross-atlantic host advantage), it was down to laughably poor gameplay on simpee's part and even then you needed a lucky headshot otherwise you'd still have lost. think about that for a second. think about how much quicker the gdi harv drops on wallsfly. think about how long simpee chose to wait for his orca, knowing you had the box. this is someone who has no idea what he's doing, and despite that, despite all the advantage he threw away thanks to piss-poor tactics, you needed a lucky headshot at exactly the right time or he'd still have beaten you... easily...

yes nunega, gdi does own wallsfly 1v1. i've got some other points you could prove for me if you like?

Quote:I'm bored of this conversation, go masturbate over pointfix topics or whatever it is you do when you're not busy being close minded and ignorant on forums.

No need to be angry just because you were wrong again. Someone who beat you wasn't necessarily playing unfair, y'know.

Tea and coffee isn't a case of taste for me.

Coffee is I want a quick caffeine hit to get me through a few more hours at work.

Tea if I'm sat down relaxing. Hot chocolate if I want a drink that tastes good but will in no way keep me alert. Like before bed...
