Well im new to the game, so this has probably been posted on in the past, but i think its a fairly resinable and simple, but affective strat. a.) buy nuke and stealth soldierb.) head on over into enemy base (fairly easy considering your invisible)c.) plant nuke at whatever building you wantd.) hit any other building around you (e.g plant it at the refinery and blast the power plant) therefore sending out the warning "GDI Power Plant under attack) thefore confusing the engineers to head over to the power plant, and since the two buildings are fairly close, sometimes you cant be entirely sure where the beacon is by sound.e.) if engineer/s do come over, aim for head, kill, and stand on the nuke making it harder for the enginners to aim at it, while u shoot at themHope these help any beigneers like myself [January 11, 2003, 15:06: Message edited by: jonesdaniel11]

Not really havco, you can shoot other buildings from where you plant, but theres the risk of being seen... if someone sees you, your outta luck, and don't try outdoors if there is a apc around... they will smear you on the ground, then disarm the nuke.

ya i did that few times lol, i know on city_flying i was nod, and we blew the agt down, (20-20 game) and we couldnt get near em, so what we did, i told 3 guys to get a sbh and nuke, and we both get ontop of a building and plant nuke, (rarley a chance where gdi can diffuse ALL the nukes) well we get up, i took refienry, everyone plants nuke, then all of a sudden, like 15 engis come up the ramp at the ref, im like wtf, i can see in the background that none of the other nukes where spotted, I WAS the only one under attack, other dudes had a holiday best way to defend nuke in a situation like tat, is keep bouncign INTO the guys while shooting sum1 else, cause if you go at em, u push them so the get disorientated, well 50 seconds later, nukes go off, and i shoot my gun in the air in fron of all the engis, saying like haha, suckers, well nuke goers off, we win, gdis *ed off as hell in next game lol, 15 engis couldent take me down, but it was a killer, all that c4 and stuff, shivers bad memories lol, allright... long enough
