Hey dudes

Got the APC done which took ages as I was trying to make the camouflage texture ends meet on the parts of the apc. Not to perfect luck but here... Removed the black paint aswell.

Also added the buggy aswell.

Only the arty and chinook to go.

Looks really nice. How does it look like if you give it blueish tones like Nod units had in C&C1?

I don't recall the Nod vehicles having the blue type of urban camo in C&C 95

I think I know what you mean though...

The flamer on the right has the blue type.

talking more about the ingame look of nod vehicles

This is the colour scheme they used for the beta (which resembles yours):

This is from the final game:

It's more of a blueish silver kind of colour tone.

I don't think any of the cutscenes with nod tanks/soldier show the actual blue used by Nod units, but even though most urban camo is more greyish, it wouldn't be impossible for it to exist. It would probably look a bit like this with more silverish tones:

The Nod Flame Tank you just showed looks pretty nice, especially the bottom half of it.

The Nod Stealth Tank skin you made looks pretty good because of the stealth effect overlayed on top of it:

You can see a bunch of nod tank cameo in this video:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6Jwtluvf3Aw>

most of the videos show a silverish colour.
