Looks great guys!

I think I remember seeing this addition in the 4.0 scripts and was wondering how it would get utilized outside of the traditional ways.

I don't know if you're referring to these but that's not the new TAG command that's available in the FDS (that mimics the MVP *# thing), but rather basically the same thing as the little arrows that pop up above your head after a radio command - except they're supplemented by models you download from the TT downloader.

The "finger" is annoying as fuck, its massive and a massive distraction, MDK couldn't help but put it on me literally the moment I joined the game, idiot.

For some PPL in this Forum the Tag *Princess* would be totally perfect, not to mention the *middlefinger*

why does DJ think he matters? still not getting it he's not good at this game, nor is he a good moderator he doesn't really have anything to contribute to Renegade or the Renegade community, but keeps spouting shit like he knows something one of life's many mysteries keep telling yourself that you matter in some way you're the only person that thinks so
