mods have been banning people left and right for stupid reasons. it glitched their server so everyone is banned for those reasons that one person got banned for. if this were a professional server run by a company they wouldnt be banning people over such stupid crap as

"stealing" a teammates vehicle

using the same name as a mod "impersonating" nobody cares except you narcissistic retards.

and the latest thing "ponies" i wouldnt be surprised if that ban was directed at me too. banning me for what reason you may ask? oh cause they feel like it and it's their server.

for real i say this with the bottom of my heart. you idiots need to die. only reason anyone should be getting banned is if... NEVER. you stupid losers. bunch of nerds giving themselves mod powe then using it on day one every chance they get. renegade is a crappy ass community i saw this crap in another thread about other rene servers. soem of these people are early 20's and should not be trusted running a server or a forum.

i was banned from their forum chat for saying "well well well" and he banned me right before he went to dinner for 5 minutes for his own amusement. Jesus bunch of loser kids/trolls. im done with it. someone who isnt a immature troll pls run a rene server thanks

FYI the SSGM bansystem plugin had a bug. It was reported at here and I fixed it a few minutes ago (less than an hour after I became aware of the issue.)

Any sane Renegade server staff would ban you for those reasons if you did those. Seriously, those two are just common sense for all Renegade projects ANY FPS GAME.

And even if it was a glitch, you could protest the glitch (Without insulting people, just like Renegade) at the forums.

No, you were kicked for 24 hours for stealing teammates vehicles on at least four occasions that I saw, despite being warned via a private message to stop doing that. You then evaded the 24 hour kick several times and started impersonating the development team, which ultimately led to the ban. If you're looking for someone to blame, I'd suggest looking in a mirror.

You got banned from a server so you went and complained to an entirely different community.

Also, using someone else's name, especially a moderator's name, you would think would generally warrant a kick or a ban.

Funniest thing is, someone actually sent me a PM about 10 hours before all this happened saying something like;

"You should ban that electro person, he is a known <multiple accusations of similar things to what he did in our server, don't recall exactly> in the Renegade community and is banned from XWIS".

My response? I said I wasn't aware of any history involving him and unless he starts kicking off in our servers I'm not personally going to take any action against him. I actually stuck up for the guy and then he goes and does this. Lol.

i havent played renegade in like 5 years. only tiberian sun on xwis and i was never a problem on xwis until the past few months because of the sean3z guy they put in charge of tiberian sun. he doesnt play the game but i knew him from when tiberian sun came out so he started bothering me and implementing server rules. hes a server script kiddie and wants to control tiberian sun server its his wet dream. he used to hack it with a few other nerds thats how i knew him. you could say i have a problem with authority. before he was around i was never banned from xwis since it replaced westwood online. when someone starts throwing anticheat crap in your face and having a server bot ban you for swearing and the head admin guy wont stop harassing you and starts editing your posts on forums etc i took action and trolleld them. if you see i was on bluehell site for a while as dreamcaseal. since a few years ago. im sure i have another account there too before that. when i started getting annoyed you didnt release the mod on time and i noticed most the mods and admins had attitudes thats when i started having a attitude of my own. basically if you behaved i wouldnt have done anything. but some of you are jackasses so i turned into one too. the end.

you can change all the graphics in tiberian sun and still have it work online.

check out my version of ts it replaces a lot of graphics and is designed to work online with people who dont have it:

<http://www.moddb.com/mods/tiberian-sun-multiplayer>

thats how they have the "fog hack" for tiberian sun and red alert 2. all you do is rename the fog graphic "shroud" which is the black stuff and then you have transparent shroud that you can see through.

Always a good excuse: say that you trolled the other to make it seem like you planned it all in advance.

Yeah, it's a great excuse, except I'm not making any excuses. I'm telling you that you got trolled by someone impersonating casael. Why are you so dense?

I played it with Ethenal for a bit when it was officially released in summer 2013, was really broken. Two Harpies were able to destroy the Refinery and some other buildings, and the cyborg commando was really powerful, especially with some vehicle combo i forgot about.

Don't know why they don't just port the mod to Unreal Engine 4 (without the Unreal Tournament character animation and movement/shooting mechanics), would be a huge improvement. Unreal Engine 4 also has the source code completely available so they can implement their own anti-cheat if needed.
