Only falsely banned on MPF still, but beeing banned is not the problem or the question here, so if you can not answer my question and as usual only want to troll you can stay away lauchboy

Maybe some1 in charge of Events from Jelly/MPF/Rencorner will post here

Pretty sure I'm not banned from Jelly-Server and RC offered to unban me which I declined.

Not sure why it's relevant because if it weren't for me this game would have died during the GameSpy shutdown, but okay (same which Tiberian Sun online but that's not related to the GameSpy shutdown..I worked with two other people to add a completely new way to play Tiberian Sun online which doesn't require XWIS or LAN emulators like GameRanger, nor serial which XWIS requires).

Yeah they changed the system like that so you can't register in-game but need to register your serial on the XWIS site. Before you could register new names by logging in with a new nickname + password in the game itself.

Well put...

What crushu said is a dream that wont come true these days, to many ppl in leading positions are busy with holding up grudges against the few players left that want to play. The Community that is left is more interested in personal disputes than in playing the game instead. Take my Topic as a good example, from a simple try and question for a christmas event, it came down to most likely the same trolls that always screw around with stuff like that, disappointing but 2015 will be the last year of Ren Servers that Ppl play on.

=D I don't care about the game either and we havnt played a real lobby war in like 1.5 years at least so ive given up on ren too. rare that I join public for a long time unless I have like 30 minutes to kill but then ill join a dumb map and leave right away.

Still would be fun to competitively play which people in renegade never understood. All they did was sit forums for hours on end and talk shit but never want to play but instead go join a pub server where I PM a noob saying get out of your tank and help repair the shell and then I took his tank with an SBH. (YAY pub server so much better cause I can feel good about myself beating up on baddies!!!!) Public is just sad and I never understood why people would not want to play competitively with others who are somewhat experienced. For me it was never about opening clanwar league to brag about gold cups 10 years later. it was just playing competitively cause the game was actually fun when played properly.

Oh well, guess this is my official good-bye to renegade. Farewell old friend, its a shame I never knew about clanwars until like 2011 when the game was dead. It would have been great if in knew about all the comm wars etc back in 2006 when I was just a small boy. All I want for Christmas is to relive the glory days of my best friend Renegade with everyone <3 in DJ's mind, being banned for cheating is the result of a grudge and nothing more in DJ's mind, he can never and will never be wrong about anything that means he can use triggerbot, a full blown cheat, and not actually be cheating - interesting

So long

how it works

Renegade has been effectively dead for years (you can argue it was never really alive in the first place), and is still slowly limping along

Well tristt, im not your bro, just saying.

For the rest, surely im still falsely banned on MPF, for calling me a cheater without the sign of a proof yet. The rest i havnt tried out yet, last time i played another serv. than MPF was like 4-5 Months ago,there i could still join rc and also jelly. I dont know why i would be banned there, ihavnt played in a while as i stated and unless they are like MPF and ban Players without a legit reason i can play there i guess?! Afaik Jelly nor RC ever banned a Player when this Player was banned on another Server. So therefore i have no doubt i can still play there. I join MPF once in a while, but ye, as i stated, since jimer is gone and there is modded shit in every map, it has up to 0% fun in gameplay and i leave very soon.

Not sure why you think I'm so interested in getting ubanned at RC. I mean I played about 3 times on that server before I got perm banned for spamming radio commands for a few minutes. You banned me from that MPF DM server because your server crashed once when a player was joining (which might have been m joinenge) and you thought I was attacking it because I programmed some stuff and offered to do so for that same DM server.

Trojan offered to unban me, I declined.

Be happy I graciously helped develop and help host a GSA master server clone for you lot.
I've got a computer that is on 24/7 that can help server if that burden gets too much for you.
