I'm looking fo this .wav file i have located virtually all of the havoc ones but this (my favorite evades me!)

It's not the commando version i'm after it's Havoc's one I noticed that the ONLY time i hear havoc use this line is during a SP movie where he snipes a nod soldier from a transport chopper

Could it be possible to extract it some how? I want all the havoc sounds on my BRotate get me this Someone Please!!!

on his knees, at your mearcy

if you download the bink video tools you should be able to extract the audio track to a wav file.
then all you have to do is edit the wav and get the part you want Indeed <http://www.radgametools.com> You want the Rad Video Tools to extract the audio from the BIK files located on your CD 2. There not in a mix so you should find them easily.

This is available at Renegade Realm in there Boink Replacment Section here is the direct link...

-Download-

You could have just used a sound capture program when the game auto runs anyway.

If I remember correctly, its always.dat as "tufguy1.wav" or something like that. Its one of the few that doesn't have a cryptic filename.

There if a "tuffguy1.wav" in always but that's not it. That's the one I was going to give him but he doesn't want the one from TD, he wants the one were in (I think level 5) intro havoc snipes a guy from a trans heli and says "real tough guy!"

Thanks guys, i really appreciate it, but do you know of any good sound editing programs so i can convert it to the proper format and reduce the background sounds in the .wav (the heli engine sound and music, etc) ahhhh now i remember where i heard it!!!

you can hear the "real tuff guy" sound when your on a server and it shuts down while your in game!!!

if you get it there you don't hear any background noise like you would in the movies where you heard it!

hope this helps!!

No, it's a clean install?? My brother and I both hear the commando in tiberium dawn shouting 'retret' (i'll check my data folder for any abnormalitiys just incase)

I bought mine in the UK could this have something to do with it?

Edit: i extracted the wav but the section sounds awful, could you record the sound, please.

Ahhh thats how you spell it (dam french words, well i think it is??)

My brother and I both hear the commando in tiberium dawn shouting 'retreat' when you loose connection when a server is shut down.

Edit: Surely all Renegade's voices are dubbed??? as are most computer games???
