Had a problem last night, I have only just downloaded the latest patch, has anyone else go this problem? a simalar one, i posted in the general a few min ago but this is the proper place to post.

I selected the advanced game listings and ren locked up requesting the server list (for euro and usa) my hard drive was constantly being accessed until, my ram filled up and ren minimised (i have proggy that manages the ram) i then had to pull the plug as the whole of my computer locked up haven't tried ren since

I've never had any problems with ren until now.. help!

Yeah i get this problem too. It requests the server list then just hangs. The way i get around it is to just leave my pc and not press anything until it finishes. Normally takes 2 minutes or so. It's annoying ad thats why i rarely use WOL anyway. If you press something like Alt + Tab while it is doing this then it will minimise after it has finished doing whatever it is doing.
