Does anyone know how to make this happen?
thanks

Apparently Photoshop makes this easy... or some other software which is apparently "unregistered"...

True that Photoshop would make such easy, but there is indeed a mod, the RPR Multimod, that has added a GDI/Nod paradrop officer. He looks exactly like the standard officers, except when you press 0 and deploy his beacon, a number of bots parachute down. Only downside to this is you have to repurchase the character to get another beacon, you can't just refill. I couldn't tell you where to find this mod for download; I have it, but am unable to upload it at the current time. If you can't locate it within a few days, let me know and I'll upload it.

pff. You dont want that mod shown in the screen shot. Drop mods blow ass. The AI just runs at the enemy base and dies.

By the way, if DONT CHEW PRO PLUSS. Fuck it tastes RANK.
Didnt have any water, and my mouth was a bit dry, so I decided to chew a couple or pro plus anyway.   yuk[/url]

That could well have been a .TGA to .JPG converter there that was un-registered rather than a picture editing software....
