Not everyone has a DSL or higspeed conction, so if your asking for help and wann show something,

DO NOT POST YOUR WHOL F DESKTOP !

cut out the part you wanna show, maybe you can also reduce the quality settings of the .jpg, belive me nobody will use this screenshot for Photoart, so a quality of 50% is ok in most cases. Nearly every image editor supports an option like 'crop to selection'

Sory if it sounds rude, but it takes more than a minute to load an imgage of 1024x768 with higest qualty settings, and in most cases if you only wanna show a little bit, it is even easier to see WHAT you wann show.

I'm not (and I think the other don't eiter) are intrested in your desktop icons.
If you wanna show your desktop open a topic: Here is my nice desktop i wanna show you or just post links from n00bstories.

its not nice loading 5 pics at full reso
and then other people post more onto the topic..which gets more annoying

I have roadrunner (cable), but i know where you're coming from. The best thing to do is probably post links to noobstories or some other website.
