i was told since my map has alot of height to make sure my mesh from ren-x has vis checked on the collision options.....i was instructed to leave it at 10 meters height and 8 granuality....but im pretty sure he told me to use edge sampling method?

Should i use the edge sampling method?

Also What is edge sampling method?

now theres 2 vis tutorials in renhelp...(i was just reading renhelp for a brush-up on completing my map)

The 1st tutorial was optimizing your map...

Nothing was mentioned about edge sampling

The 2nd by ysl muffins....

Mentioned nothing about edge sampling

I Have all the tutorials...and ive takin your advice many of times.

I read them all...Time and time again

I'm Starting to wonder if you have read renhelp(you say all my questions are answered there,but it seems like you havent read it yourself)

I see just fine. 20\20 vision.

You, on the other hand, have problems reading, writing, and communicating with others. It's more than apparent in what you write, how you consistently beg for help, then continually post over and over until someone replies.

That and the fact that you can't write worth an old donkey being sold at a flea market.

LaeubiACK needs some posts. :rolleyes:

Lol, do you have a basket of generic comments that you pull these out of, or do you just not read the replies?

He's a Flamer...

ACK Seems to know that im going to make some good maps someday....and he can't handle that.

So he try to insult me every chance he gets.

It's not a problem...im use to it by now.

lol, ack isnt a flamer.

He gives his opinions, someone don't like it so they start insulting him and he defends himself.

Titan1x77He's a Flamer...

Only to those who act like n00bs, expect everyone to teach them, those who act/say stupid things, etc..

Hmm, start learning on your own, stop saying stupid things, and stop acting like a n00b, and guess what, you won't be receiving any more flames.

Titan1x77ACK Seems to know that im going to make some good maps someday....and he can't handle that.

Not quite, but good try. (Too bad you'll/we'll have to wait for several years for that day to come.)

Titan1x77So he try to insult me every chance he gets.

Is it his fault you present alot of chances to be made fun of?

im sorry

I didnt know what edge sampling was.

Can you blame me...how many others know what edge sampling is?

I dont ever recall acting like a noob...i never make stupid statements nor do i care about respecting others who have no respect for me.

I have treated everyone ive ever met for the 1st time with kindness since i was a teen.

I use to live life like a few people i come across on the net....people grow up and change..

i just lash back when i feel dis-respected.

You must of confused me with someone who gives a shit about your help anymore.

I apprciated your help in the past SIR....now it seems that you have your pad on like a couple of others....ACK, Deafwasp
