I have started a website that will have some tutorials on it. If you would like to see the website you must join the group. I am trying to make it so you do not need to join. Its a pretty good website. It is down righ this second but will be up again very shortly.

The website is: <http://www.msnusers.com/RenxTutorials/>

Please join it i would like some input of what kinds of tutorials are needed.

I have already made 2- flying vehicle tut and picture terrain nobody will more than likely join mainly because you need to have MSN first of all, and not everyone has an account, secondly it means effort and not alot of people like using that up.

i have actually created a uberly cool layout for a renegade tutorials website already, but i haven't got around to coding it yet... hehe maybe i should take a time out of modeling and finish coding the layout?

Get alot of tuts at the sticky on the top. There are a ton of tuts all around that you can add to your site. just give the author credit.

WHAT THE HELL??? what did i just miss???

umm, ok by the way you just responded to maytridys post, who is actually a friend of mine, i don't think your the kinda person who i like to talk to, just please refrain from asking for my help for anything.

i have nothing more to say to you...

Hmm, why... Laeubi and I both have a site with tutorials, and it's hard to get the attraction from the people here, the forum has only be used by General Havoc, coz noone else come to <http://www.nodnl.net> and now you start a site too.. it will be even harder for you to get visitors coz its on msn

Do you not like friendly suggestions that will help your site? Or do you just have a real passion for starting flames? Children these days. :rolleyes:
