Drools some more, then stabs [REHT]Spirit, grabs the model out of his dead hands and runs to the nearest PC, still drooling

P.S. I believe you meant "plans" not "plains".

Eh, well I tried. I didn't want to try to re-apply textures after converting them to .tga, so i left those out. And well, I think i boned it sideways, so it came out wrong. But this thing is HUGE. Meh, IM me if anyone wants some "awesome" screens.

Can't you learn how to put your models in game? Can't do it without getting someone who's gullible enough to get them in for you?

(That skin is great. That model is alright. The center of the vehicle (the treads and the thing around it) and the left arm thingie (the missile part) needs work. The right arm looks great.)

This could be viewed as another way. In a way this is team-work among the community, more people get to contribute and get their names on things, thus more people are known, thus more work will, hopefully, get noticed. Thus everyone gets a piece of the pie, or at least a lot more do. Also this lets Madtone get more models out, while others can have fun boning, so more is done and you get more in less time!

Personally I can't bone worth nothing (I tried a few times, once on an alien mech, it's left arm kept flying around the mech like a jet pilot while the other arm stayed attached and spun around), so I wish you guys luck!

Ok, I am now back, and I am going to attempt to bone this beast. I will hopefully be done in a few hours, around 5:00 PM 4/28/03 (NY time).

I actually asked Madtone to make some more models, and I love it when he doesn't bone them because it gives me something to do. If you don't want to bone it yourself, then don't. We're not gullible either. We WANT to do it, it's fun.

You can only have 1 turret bone, and 2 Muzzle A bones, and 2 Muzzle B Bones, I boned it all awesomely, it was just sideways.

Sir Phoenixx

Can't you learn how to put your models in game? Can't do it without getting someone who's gullible enough to get them in for you?

(That skin is great. That model is alright. The center of the vehicle (the treads and the thing around it) and the left arm thingie (the missile part) needs work. The right arm looks great.)

Ok firstly im just making models because i enjoy modeling, i have enjoyed modeling for a few years now and i still do. Just recently i decided to let out a few models of my collection and release a few of my new model to people, and if they want to use them, then they can.

Secondly, i don't really want to mod for renegade, i only like modeling, thats basicly it, modeling and graphical design. im not looking for a gullible person to do the work for me. As if im going to use them in a mod. I only wanted to give people a challenge, you know some people can actually be nice, not everyone wants lots back. all i wanted was to maybe see this tank in renegade, i didn't want to use it or whatever, just wanted to see it.

Thirdly, thanks for the feedback on the model design, i might do some more work to it at some point when i get time.

This does look very nice, Good Job.

But is this actually possible to have in the game? Without it lagging? Would it be able to run like a normal vehicle?

no, there would be no lag, it is a very low poly model, only like 756 polys after i optimized it. but, the multiple barrels and many muzzles has baffled me. I gave up a while ago.

But the F-22 is a stealth fighter, it doesn't carry it's weapon on it's wings, it carries them inside.
