I am having a very odd problem with one of my vehicles. I made a tank and exported it, then in Level Edit I noticed it was way to big. So simply resized the model, exported it and restarted Level Edit, but it was exactly the same size as before. No matter how small I make it, it will not become smaller. I had this problem before and I fixed it but I forgot how I did. Anyone know who to fix this.

Unlink the stuff, then resize, link, export.

well i dont really get ur question. but if ur just trying to scale down the whole vehicle, u just select the whole vehicle and just use the "uniform scale" tool and make it to the size u want. The tool looks like a black big square with a white square at the bottom right

Try resizing your origin bone.

The animated picture in your signature is over half a Meg (almost 600K). Please find something smaller as people on modem connections dont want to download for 20 seconds just to view a thread with your post in it

Are you sure it's not loading from anywhere in your DATA directory?

'Cause I've done that before

Takes my friend on his crappy 56k only four seconds to view the post and then 10 seconds to view the picture . But since n00bstories is down, I will take it off.

IngrownlipTry resizing your origin bone.
Yep, but first activate the [Don't affect Clidren] or it will not work, the bigger the orgin bone is the smaller the vehicle will get.

Oh Yeah! I was going to help you out with that on AIM, but I couldnt remember how I fixxed it. I had the same problem with my KFC Mobile, it was huge, and every time I tryed to scale it down it would never work when I opened up commando. Than I guess one of hte times I just scaled down the origin and it turned out fine.
