Heres a question I hope EVERYONE answers

What are the best maps and the best spots on the maps for sniping?? and if you have any other tactics on any other character or vehicle post it too.

There is no "best spot". That would mean you would camp there. Camping is not a good habit to form.

Camping = death, for any class, not just for sniping. Unless you are playing against complete boobs, if you sit in the same place eventually the team will send 5 or 6 people together to take you out. Then again, this is when truly l33t people like myself or Java kill all of them and laugh while we go reload.

if your camping. Kill one or two people, and then move to a new spot, there really isnt place to camp on any of the maps, especially with the skins and not laying down. Also if in a tunnel, if you a good player.. jump and stay close to them, if u know how to aim close up. But I perfer ranged attacks. When I saw you play last night, you didnt get a kill at all, because you rushed head on, on snipers that had a higher ground.

If there was any ultimate sniping spot where you are totally in control and protected in the entire game whether or not its a mod, it would be a hack or a glitch. There is no spot that won't be seen or scoured by someone curious enough to say, "Now where in the hell did that shot come from...?"

I don't snipe much. But when I do, I always move around, and always get spotted by Java (Nooo!)
And of course, thats instant death.

After getting killed many times, Ive learned some Sniping rules:

1. Deadeye/Blackhand sniper = Lot' Better then Sak/Havoc if you are good at sniping, plus it dosent give your position away.
2. If your GDI, Watch your back. Alot. Why? SBH = Can ruin your day. Best idea is to keep your back to a wall, or in a corner so they have to throw the C4 at you from straight on, and you will see them first.
3. Don't be a ass and get a sniper when they are attacking you with tanks. (Unless, of course, they have engineers repairing those tanks)
4. As its been said before, Don't camp, move around, and hide alot....
5. Conserve your ammo! If no one is around, dont start shooting at trees cause your bored, Just move and get a better place!

6. If there are more then 3 snipers on your team, do something else.

7. Dont die

Im not that good at sniping, But I can do it, If Im in the mood

First of all there are many good places to hide, I can think of 3 or 4 on complex alone. If I told you all then my spots would be all of your spots...so and I know that some of you people in here will probably call me a, n00b but if you want to see how well they work come find me in a game or save yourself the humiliation and ask someone.

My favorite spot to snipe is on city_flying. Go to the far right side of the base and go to the opening that leads into the middle. No one on the bridge can snipe you and only the people on the complete other side of the board can. I usually get it a 1 vs. 1 sniping battle and win about 70% of the time. Also great for getting easy points against tanks trying to move into the middle. Occasionally I move out alittle to snipe the people that are coming out of the openings to the middle. You would not believe how many head shots you can get against snipers not paying attention. But I always pay on 30+ people servers so most are n00bs. I'd probably die if I went against good people.

Yep, camping sucks. It was funny once though how on city flying I was kicking ass defending with a Raveshaw and after a while GDI sent a havoc with a few enginners out to kill me. i killed them all in the wall. noone can hit u but u can hit them.

all u need is an orca. fly it to the entrance of the base(the door for tanks) let them kill it while you fly up at the entrance. when it blows you fly in to the wall.

well actully this spot is retarded and its not hard to kill the guy in the wall. abit of c4 goes along way.

all u need is a friend

just grab a buddie and head to nods bunker by the tib. run into the tunnle and up the ramp. one guy runs by the wall and starts jumping the other runs into him. up over the wall, up the hill, across the little walk way. now ur on the mountain in the middle of the battle field. (if u fall u die)

this spots to hard to get to IMO

there are more but who needs them.i dont use any of these i grab a sniper and run aorund killen ppl its just that easy. :twisted:

in reply to the question on hand, there are no "good" sniper spots, i agree with java,any "good spots" are called camping.and only work against n00bs and bots.

I don't need to prove my skills to some low-life fundament. Being in one of the most respected sniper clans (NSD) along with TrueADM and other legends. I wouldn't call myself the "shit sniper."
