I decided I would try it because of various things I've heard about it, and because I am currently doing nothing with my FilePlanet subscription. It recently completed downloading, but I'm hitting an error along every path. I have a Station account and a unique key given to me during the installation process. Now, I try to login, and it says I do not have a PlanetSide subscription, with [Subscribe] and [Close] buttons. Naturally, I click Subscribe. I log in once again to the Station, and now it says...

The game's account keys may only be used by confirmed members of its fan club,

You can sign up for the fan club by visiting its web site by clicking here.

Clicking "here" only takes me to the official beta application form. So in essence I've reached a dead end and I have no idea how to proceed. I would like to try PlanetSide, even though I have no intentions of making it a replacement for Renegade because I don't wish to pay $10 a month to play it. Does anyone know what it means by I need a PlanetSide subscription? I would like to think you don't have to pay for the beta...

No, you don't need to pay to play in the beta.

Try creating a new account at the page you were given, I think this is what other people did and they got it to work.

Thanks for trying to help me, Ultron, but unfortunately, that did not work. I reinstalled the game and registered for my third Station account. I can get as far as the launchpad.exe where my options are News, My Account, and New Account. New Account takes me to sign up for a Station account, not an online account for PlanetSide. On the right of this launchpad is a login area to type in my Station username/password. I do so, and it says "You Do Not have a PlanetSide Subscription." That's where it ends... oy. Maybe something went wrong during installation? I got my unique key, but I did not have to enter it anywhere. I'd really like to try the game before I decide on buying it the 19th, but I'm striking out here.

EDIT: Okay, after some help from the PS boards, I have been able to activate my account. It seems that I was required to fill out a beta application before being able to play; I was unaware of such. Now that this crisis has been averted, is there anyone here in the FP beta that would be willing to teach me a few things about the game if need be.. or just people that I might recognize?

Well, if you play on the Markov server you might recognize me. I play there with the nickname Doitle.
