I don't see how fighting bigotry with bigotry satisfies you, Afromn96.

I'd think the people of this board realize that two wrongs don't exactly make a right.

And by brushing that off, I take it you wouldn't mind then if I called you "Bigot" from now on instead of your actual name. You don't deny it -- if anything, you accept it.

any idiot that uses WWII against the French is a moron. After Hitler took over Poland, measures were made to take him out. You cant sit there and call a country pussies because they couldn't defeat an army that it took America, Russia and the remaining Europeans to defeat.

Actually, yes we can.

The reason it took three countries to expel them, was due to the fact that the resources, ports, and forced labor captured in the battle for France, were what bolstered the German Army for the defense of "The Atlantic Wall".

The French had the Maginot Line, one of the largest (while wholly inadequate) tank forces, largest standing army on the continent, and largest fleets of aircraft. It was thier lack of will to fight, and overconfidence in the WW1 victory that killed them. French "pride" also stopped them from turning over vessels in Toulons that would have been used to liberate thier country. This fleet was the largest and most powerful on the mainland. Second only to Britains. Instead of honoring the British request to sail to Britain where they would be able to captian thier own vessels in the liberation fight, they scuttled thier own fleet, and refused to destroy the shipyards and equipment that Germany used to terrorize the North Atlantic.

Sounds like pussies, and rollovers to me.

I read a reliable book a while back and your little British friends threatrened to destroy any French ships that didn't surrender. So it was more of a threat then request. And we know the French mainly don't bow to threats. And I am glad of that point.

What were the two choices, given the fact that the French were rolling over like 2 dollar hookers? I wonder who would have wound up with the ships? Then they would have been shooting at the already overtasked British,who ironically, wanted France liberated. Duty, and Honor dictated that the prideful, idiotic, stubbornness should have beeb overcome with common sense.

Instead, they short circuited, and sank the damn fleet, and the Germans STILL got to use the ports.

Typical French Military campaign.

Funny that when my dad goes to Somalia, Africa to work...he flies through Paris as well...

how long did his plans say he was going to stay there for? unless it was more than about 30 hours...I wouldn't call it more than a lay over.

His business is his own. If you are all so eager for a witch hunt of escape aiders then why do you arrest them all and see if you can even show any decent evidence in court. But then again the verdict would be biased.

I'm sorry champ, what when you say "The french suck ass" without any supporting information, clearly attacking the nation as a whole, THAT IS BIGOTRY.

If you had singled out those few people Kirby spoke of in the first place, then I really don't give a damn, but you didn't, bigot.
