I sent in my registration for WOL and I'm still waiting for my activation E-Mail. It's been over 14 hours now; how long is this supposed to take? Do they have to go through each and every new username to make sure it's appropriate? I thought things like this were automatic.

Yes, I am certain I gave the right address.

Don't bother waiting, you won't get it.

You can play without it.
