Thanks for raising the issue, Afro. I had to take several minutes of game time last weekend to explain to some player why his use of "j00" and "gay" was obnoxious and offensive. This has nothing to do with political correctness, and everything to do with not being a bigot. I wish more players understood that. *climbing down from my soapbox*

im sorry 2 say this but renegade will be dead in the next 6 months, u can buy it 4 12$ and most stores dont even have it. it is also being overrun by n00bs and faggot hackers with cheats, and EA will probably stop online service 4 but i dont know about that. why doesnt anyone like Planetside anyway u never give anything new a chance, i think it will be as good as renegade if not better. Planetside has fixed the flaws that renegade made

1. u can now talk 2 your squad memebtrs without downloading teamspeak which very few people have.

2.better graphics

3.more vehicles

4.large areas 2 fight on unlike renegades small maps

5.better online service

6.The sides are more even unlike Nod and GDI

Afromn96im sorry 2 say this but renegade will be dead in the next 6 months, u can buy it 4 12$ and most stores dont even have it. it is also being overrun by n00bs and faggot hackers with cheats just because it's cheaper to buy doesn't mean it's going to die... that could also mean that more people will decide to buy it and play because it's not $50 to get anymore... any game will have n00bs, and I haven't seen any sign of hackers and cheats... where are you looking?

Afromn96and EA will probably stop online service so? don't need EA to play it online... once EA stops online service, there is always REOL and even Gamespy. Just because EA stops online service won't kill the online game, just move it... just like these forums.

Afromn961. u can now talk 2 your squad memebtrs without downloading teamspeak which very few people have.

This can be changed... I don't mind downloading something extra to better the game... not going to pay $50 for the game and a monthly fee to talk to someone... if I wanted to do that, I'd get their number and call them.

Afromn962.better graphics

3.more vehicles

4.large areas 2 fight on unlike renegades small maps

5.better online service

6.The sides are more even unlike Nod and GDI

This is all fine and dandy and may even be true, but still not enough to pay a monthly fee for a game that will probably not be as anti-cheat as Renegade and will still be full of just as many, if not more n00bs. Like I said, every game has them.

Everyone is racist in some form or another.

Why are you so intent against racism? That's like saying we shouldn't look at anyone. The human mind instantly categorizes everything it sees, because it recognizes patterns and remembers them. You see a group of oriental people and you'll remember a group of oriental people the next time you see a single oriental person. It's the way the mind works... It's a defense reaction in a sense. If you feel threatened e.g. by a group of black\white\whatever men walking down the street with lead clubs in their hands, you'll remember that group later when you see another of their kind.

To deny being racist is to deny being human. To deny being human is a lie.

Go ahead and live in denial... I'm a racist and I'm proud of it. I don't like Mexicans... boo fucking hoo. What're you going to do about it? I have the right to my opinions as much as you have the right to not like them... Take an injection of "Get The Fuck Over It" like you preach tolerance and let it go.

I can not hate any one for their colour. Only the person for their actions and that person alone. And believe me, for what happened to me I have a shit load of people to hate. Although even my resolve in that matter has started to fade. Its a bit self serving I know but it works fine for me.

I suppose humans are predators, we prey on one another for little reason other than they are smaller, or weaker, or slow in thought or body, or a cripple, or a faggot, or a puff, a spik, a nigger, the list can go on for hours. It seems a lot of people have come up with a lot of reasons to hate. I used to have reasons like that myself. I grew up.

I have little time left, I would rather be me, than be human.

I agree most of us have some type of prejudice against other people. However, that doesn't give anyone the right to blurt out racial slurs and/or insult people solely based on their race or ethnic background. I know a lot of people think this is just another one of those "politically correct" things to do but I think it's just common decency.

Think whatever you like, but I say keep it to yourself or voice your opinions in a less offensive manner than that. If you have something against a person there are many "Choice" words you can use. Why go and use a racial slur? Are they an asshole because of their race? Nope, assholes come in all shapes and colors.

And ACK, I also think being a racist goes beyond having certain prejudices. Before you can say we are all racists as human we need to define a racist, and like everything else we all have our own little definitions. To me being a racist is acting on those prejudices.

You say you are a racist and proud of it? Do you go around shouting racial slurs at people? Do you advocate segregation? See, there's degrees to everything and a prejudice against a certain people for whatever personal experiences we have had in the past doesn't necessarily makes us a racist.

I think you need to examine that part of the statement, not for me, the forum or anyone else but for yourself. I believe deep down no one really wants to be the guy that goes on tv shows in his white robe making statements like that. As a human race I think we can do better than that and learn to live with each other even if we don't like certain peculiarities about other people. Doesn't mean you have to like it. It just means you can accept people for who they are... and that just makes you a better human being.

(Damn that was loooong... sorry but I had to let it out )

Quote:So what are you, some kind of "gray" alien?

I am no alien. I have emotions and I can assure you that I am human. I used the word human in homage to the book 'dune' to be human and to be a person, are two different things. The rest of the statement was drawn from 'the naked ape' by Desmond Morris. If you have not read these books then I am sorry that you did not understand. I should have used more common terms.

what I meant was, that I do not allow some experiences and situations to taint my whole view of life. If I am robbed by a man, and he was Irish, should I hate all Irish and call every single one of them Micks, just because of him? Should I hate all gays because my parents call them fagots?

I do not deny what and who I am. I am a person, an individual. the way that I see things are my own. I do not allow what people tell me to affect me to deeply. But i wonder. Is human to be the same? To be like every one else as species?

When I see the things we can do to one another, I would hope that I am not like them, and will not become them.

As I said... I would rather be me, then to be human. If only for a little while.

Racism is the belief that your race is superior to another race (which is the same as saying another race is inferior to yours), or that you discriminate against people because of their race.

By the definition of Racism, I am not racist, I don't think that white is better than black, or that black people aren't as smart as white, or etc.

I think that everyone is pretty much equal, the only difference between white and black, is that black people have been in the sun too much. (Really, melanin, go look it up).

Don't get carried away everytime you hear the word 'nigger' remember they use it to describe themselves (listen to some 2 pac or equivalent rap artist) this quote.....

Quote:"Tony sucks big nigger dick"

Is not racist, the one about hanging them, because of their colour, is.

If I said I prefer to sleep with a white woman over a black how can that be racist?? none can tell me who to sleep with or what to suck

If comics like Chris Rock insist making this word a common phrase the rest of the world will follow (I have heard the word nigger said by black people more than anyone else)

I re-read what I just wrote and it seems to raise more questions than it answers so make of it what you want :stern:

But overall I also know and understand the way we as humans perceive things due to evolution, the same way as ACK except I'm not racist (I have many coloured friends) I just don't like people with an attitude which seems to be displayed towards me by members of minority communities, shame it is the few who spoil it for the many.....

Racism exists...without prejudices we couldn't exist. Without descrimination, how could we tell who was hot and who was ugly? We would all love or hate every other person equally. We would all be, in fact, bi sexual because we wouldn't descriminate between male and female.

I think racist words should be allowed if they can be used in a context that doesn't sound like a hate word. You can call someone a faggot as long as you aren't using it as an insult, as well as calling someone nigger of darky or even whitey. Stereotypes exist for a reason, but that doesn't mean it applies to everyone. Most the theft I've seen has been by black people. I almost never see less than 10 Asians together, I always see Irish people out getting drunk, and most the Mexicans I know are illegal immagrants that work crappy jobs that no one else wouldn't.

That doesn't mean they are all bad people...I'm friends with most every Irish and Mexican I know. I get along better with them than most Americans. You shouldn't write someone off as a bad person because of prejudices you have against them

You can call someone a "faggot" or a "nigger" without using it as an insult? If I was either gay or black and someone called me that I would most certainly smash their face in. It's about respect people. Plain and simple, if you expect others to respect you you have to behave in a respectful manner as well.

comedian. I make jokes about things like this. Now before this topic gets locked, let me talk for awhile.

1. Now I agree with ACK because he is right. Racism will always exist and never go away. No matter where you live at or at work or any other place where racism exist. The reason is it is part of Human nature. If you look all thru out history there was always racism and hatred. Even in the bible there was a lot of racism and hatred. And it pasted down from generation to generation to generation to now. And you think racism will ever go away. Hell no. Cause everybody is racist in other people. But they know they are.

against a certain group you should say you are racist against a certain group. Now other people may not like it and you might end up getting your ass kicked but atleast you let something out of

"I'd rather be disliked for who I am, than liked for who I am not."

ACK. Cause he does not care who likes him, what people think of him, or what people say about him. Cause no matter what, ACK is going to come online and be his same old self no matter if you example: Anybody remember him. Ok, he was a pitcher for the Atlanta Braves and he made a derogatory comment about Blacks and Hispanics of New York City. Now I was not mad at the comment he made. I was made AT THAT BULLSHIT ASS apology he gave on TV. Because of you mean what you say then you should not apologize for it.

2. Now Racism can be in any form or fashion. One of the definition is what Sir Phoenix had said. But Racism can go way beyond that. Racism can be in many ways. For example: You know and counting how many friends you have from every race group out there. You would just say, what friends from any race group you or who you date. But see people do it anyway cause its to do, but people are not going to stop doing it.

I can explain so many racist ways people can be racist. Its not even funny. For example: making anything else when people make polish joke, or when Americans make jokes about Canadians and Canadians make jokes about Americans. And the same with the English, Scottish, Australians, etc. When you make a joke about any nationality you are being racist cause you are discriminating and using a stereotype to make it sound funny. But I see a lot of people do that on here.

look at any Black comedian what are the jokes they always talk about. Its always three things they are talk about.

1. Racism: They talk about Black people, White people, Hispanics, anyone, etc. They talk about the differences and how everybody are the same but just do things differently.
2. Sexism: Always have to talk about Men and women and the differences between them.
3. And everyday normal stuff such as sex, walking home, going to work, Micheal Jackson (hehehehehehe, had to thru that one in there), etc.

from Richard Pryor, Red Fox, and Eddie Murphy all the way to Chris Rock, Dave Chappelle, and Martin Lawrence that is what they always talk about. And they make people laugh. Matter of Fact every comedian almost doe that. Jerry Seinfeld does Jewish jokes all the time. Jeff Foxworthy (which is one funny mutha) does Redneck jokes. Sarah Silverman does all types of jokes. And so on and so on.

funny sort of way and get the majority of the people laughing you have done a great job of being a Saturday Night to raise money for Charity at this comedy club I perform at. And a critic came and saw me perform and said I was as funny as Chris Rock on a Sunday Afternoon in Church. I laughed my ass off when he said that.

It scares me to know that people with ACK's mentality exist. They attempt to justify their ignorance by making statements that "everyone is racist." No ACK, I am not racist. I can say this because for two years I was on the other side. The one who was being discriminated against. I lived in a Country where Americans in the military were hated. I could not go into certain resteraunts, clubs etc... I could not shop in certain stores and the natives did their best to avoid having contact with me. It was known that the Natives thought Americans smelled funny and worried that we would come out at night to rape their children. I must say, it really sucked. It was an eye opener. So ACK, I challenge you. Grow up! Join the US Army, request deployment to the Middle East, live there for a year. And lets see if you will still be so ignorant. In other words... put yourself in the mexican's shoes.

Just my thought.

No, what's sad is that you use the liberal tactic called "I'll attack you in the hopes that your point gets lost in a sea of insult."

You're not racist because you went overseas? What does that have to do with anything? I've been to Mexico. I lived there, in Mexico City, amongst the people. I would see smog clouds floating down the street every morning, every person smelled like a sack of shit, and the only clean people were the ones who worked for hotels or had a decent job.

The rest didn't even seem to care about the squalor they lived in. You see some people coming up to you covered in filth, trying to socialize... right. I don't think so.

I don't really care if you've been overseas or not. That means nothing to me other than the fact that you helped defend this country.

I'm not going down the street yelling "I HATE MEXICANS" or whatever. I simply dislike Mexicans and anyone who smells like rice and beans. I fucking hate that smell when I'm trying to walk somewhere in public... You know how irritating it is to be walking around in a city, head to the mall, sit in the food court... Then some Mexican guy sits across from you and all you can smell is rice and beans instead of the food you're trying to fucking eat!?

Ok, ack let me type slower so you can understand.

All I said was put yourself in the situation where you would be discriminated against. And then come talk to me. It does not sound like you felt discriminated against when living in Mexico. What it sounds like, is you just hated it there, because of the filth? What does that have to do with hating all mexicans?

About being liberal. Not true, actually, I am a moderate. For me, I like to treat people with respect, no matter their situation. Another thing ACK, eventhough I was treated like shit by the most of the Natives where I was serving, I do not condem them all or the people of that nationality I meet here in the states today.

Again ack, just my opinion.

I don't need to put myself into their position. I got discriminated against plenty of times. White men are the butt of contempt in black neighborhoods. Try walking in one without hearing "Cracker! Honkey!" as you go along. That's not racism for them, but it's racist if you call them a nigger in retaliation. :rolleyes:

Perhaps you need to open your eyes... Discrimination is a part of life. It's a part of humanity. Stop whining about it and learn to deal with it. People aren't going to bend over to your will because you want everyone to get along.

ACK, calling "I'll attack you in the hopes that your point gets lost in a sea of insult" a "liberal tactic" sounds like the same sort of smearing you claim to oppose. Are you about to announce a shift in politics, ACK? Saying "tactic" alone would have worked, but being "liberal" has nothing to do with one's style of argument. Aircraftkiller Perhaps you need to open your eyes... Discrimination is a part of life. It's a part of humanity. Stop whining about it and learn to deal with it. People aren't going to bend over to your will because you want everyone to get along.

You are right, discrimination is a part of life. Racism isn't and even though racists discriminate I don't believe those 2 terms are the same.

Here's what Webster's World Dictionary thinks:

discriminate = to differentiate, to distinguish, to show partiality or prejudice racism = the practice of racial discrimination, segregation ect.

We all discriminate in one form or another due to our human nature. There is no excuse for being a racist. There is no excuse for making racist remarks. There is not excuse for making general statements against one group of people.

I do believe that someone that went through certain circumstances in life (example: being yelled at every day by people of a certain race) would feel prejudiced against that group in general. However, the belief that all "blacks" or all "hispanics" are the same is ludicrous. If people of your own race did those things to you then you would feel prejudiced against those specific people and not the whole race.

I know people of all races that I like very much and I also know people of all races that I don't even want to talk to or be seen with.

My point I guess is don't generalize because no 2 people are the same and not everyone of a certain race is the same...

Now who would appear to be more racist, a person who said he has friends from different races, or a person who only has friends from his race?

I think you miss understood me. Ok let me read back what I said.

Quote:Racism can be in many ways. For example: You know people would try to explain they are not racist and say something like

Well this is probaly how they got losted at. Now let me explain. And this is the truth. You know how people that you would call racist and they would try to back it up with "Well I have such and such friends" but they still refer to black guy as "nigger" and Chinese as "Chink" or Puerto Rican as "spic" or Japanese as "Jap" or white guy as "cracker". Now if you wasn't racist you wouldn't refer to any race group with a racial slur. Thats who the people I was referring to. And there are some people ont he boards that do that.

I also was referring to the people that just blurt out how many friends from any race group they have. For example, "I have 5 white friends." or "I have a 6 black friends." And I'm saying to myself why you have to dice them up in groups and all. Why can't you just say, "I have 11 best freinds all together." But see all thru out the years people don't do that. They rather say I have such and such friends to make themselves not appear racist. Which that person may not be racist or anything. I'm just saying, you don't have to go and dice people up into groups and all.

In your other post you didn't say that, you didn't mention racial slurs.

All you said was that someone is racist if in their defense to being called a racist they said that they have black friends, chinese friends, or whatever.

John Shaft Jr.I also was referring to the people that just blurt out how many friends from any race group they have. For example, "I have 5 white friends." or "I have a 6 black friends." I don't know, or have seen anyone ever put their friends in groups by race when they were asked about how many friends they have. I've only seen people say that they have friends from certain races when ACCUSED OF BEING A RACIST. What better way to defend yourself when being called a racist then showing them that you do have friends of different races?

I have known black guys that allowed people to call them Niggers and homosexuals that allowed people to call them faggots so long as it's not used in a hateful context. You really have to know the person you say them to though. I use it as an insult to the gay people I know...and they know my sense of humor is just to make fun of people, so they dont take it as an insult and usually sit there and say "yeah, you're right, I'm a flamming queer ball" or something like that Prejudice, yes, racist, no. I have no problem with someone of the other color, hell, I have plenty of friends of every color. It's their personality that gets to me. Yes, black kids can walk down the hall, dragging their feet, barely pronouncing words, and making funny noises trying to make beats to rap songs. So what? I've seen white's, mexicans, and asians all do the same thing. I hate all of them.

There's black, asian, mexican, irish, anyone, that skateboard, I love them. They share a common interest with me, so I like them.

A black person can be working a register at the mall, and be a complete asshole to you, so? Any other color could be just as mean.

A white man can randomly give you $50, but why couldn't a black man?

Basicly I think what I'm trying to say, is to me, it's not about the ethnic group, but the way they act. Serisouly? I think all the races around here are equal. It's the whole "ghetto kid" or "skater kid" or "dorky kid" or "prep kid" that people care about now. Color doesn't matter, it's who they are.
