Renegade Evolution is not dead. The forums are at <http://renegaderevolutions.beaconpedestal.com> and the Mod Exchange will be online shortly as soon as Dante has resolved the DNS.

I can host some images on my ISP's FTP and post the link here. Jsu email them to me at generalhavoc@nodnl.net and i'll get them up as soon as i receive them.

Havoc 89BTW it is a M-203 model. with a poly of 2000

2000 polygons just for the m-203??? That's about 1700 polygons too much.

That is an m4a1, the thing attached to it under the barrel is the m203.

June 6th boo ya!

back to the point

is there a way to mold both the regular assault rifle and the grenade launcher together, and make the nade launcher more powerful, have a 1 round clip, and say....12 rounds as the alt-fire for the assault rifle?

that would be cool.....

The m4 is in alot of games.

This was made like a year ago for my current Quake 3 mod.

The m4a1 is about 1200 polygons, each of the extras (m203, laser, silencer, etc.) is around 200 polygons or less.

I've since remade most of it.

May 28th (Yesterday)

That is a VERY nice model, Phoenixx. What program did you use, because the render looks like a Max 4, since Max 5 has that cool new rendering doodad...I can't think of what it's called...
