I have finally got the helipad scripts working on maps now after a few minor problems i had but i am now writing a tutorial on how to use the script. I have made short video of the script in action. you can get it at <http://modx.renevo.com/showthread.php?s=&threadid=142> . It's only a short video showing you what happens when you buy an flying vehicle. It doesn't create them at the WF/Airstrip but it sends them to the helipad to be built. I know a few of you are wanting this tutorial but it will be best to let me finish it in detail because if i was to release it only written in brief then i can assure you that anyone who uses it will come back with loads of questions. Thats why i'm going carefully through each steps and including pictures to make it as fool-proof as possible.

I had to stop my AAF video to watch this but it was worth it that looks to be yet another good feature available to future mod...

I must say the way the helicopter came down looked a lot smoother than the way that helicopters come down on to the airstrip...

1 thing is this seperate to the airstrip or are they linked so if 1 goes down so does the other hope not?

Well the building itself is seperate from the airstrip but if the airstrip is killed then you won't be able to buy the aircraft anymore. If you destroy the helipad then you can either have it so it stop aircraft from being purchased (it will still take you money at the moment, maybe we can sort something out for that in the future). Or you can have it so the helipad just gets destroyed. The aircraft comes down smooth because of the waypath i made it will follow it. Also if some enemy thinks there going to try and be smart by shooting it down from the air then it will attempt to kill the enemy by shootin it with it's weapon.

This script could also be used with the aircraft fuel one if you wanted to. This means that you can set a time limit on the aircraft, after this time expires the aircraft will start to get damaged by explosions (can be set) until it returns to a refuel zone (scriptzone at helipad or something) also we could set the helipad up to repair making it have a use.

Hope i have gave you some ideas to think about for these scripts.

One question if for flying maps you have to have the entier map self contained so no aircraft can get out (vechile blockers) how do you get the vechile to spawn off the map and also pass through the blockers??.

Thanks for your help getting the aggregates working. I read that tutorial you wrote on making a briges. The bit on agregates helped a lot. There is a problem (maybe) about the vehicle entering the map due to vehicle blockers, ther must be a way round it that will work.

I really wish you'd credit Dante with this stuff... I had pushed his behind for about two weeks to make a Helicopter Pad script for Renegade Alert. Most of the scripts he wrote were for it to begin with.

You take way too much credit for just making his scripts work. Instead of you making tutorials on his scripts, let him do it - he knows ten times more about them than you do.

No, not anymore.

It's also pointless to have helicopters that fly in to land on the Helicopter Pad, because of the flight ceiling. You have to make the helicopter in question fly through the flight ceiling - but that's impossible.

The only real way to do it is to have the helicopter in question appear about fifteen feet above the Helicopter Pad, and lower itself down onto it.

I was asked to help tests the scripts contained in the scripts.dll file by Jon Wilson and to document them with detailed tutorials. I am not taking the credit for the making of the scripts and no where have i ever said that. Also Dante helped me out with these scripts becuase he wanted me to write a tutorial on how to use these scripts on maps. He took time to explaing to me how they work and helped me out with problems i had. I have worked hard testing these scripts and getting them working including a map with 24 scripts tested and working. You come along and say whats the point in me doing all of this and taking too much credit for it, it only makes me not want to help people because of things you are trying to say.

Wel if you spent time to read my tutorial you will see that i credit everyone who's help or work has been needed in them. This will include you as well as bumpaneer for working on the helipads and their agregates. Also stonerook for help me setting up the agregates on the helipads. I have only released a video showing how the script works so i don't think you can call that claiming credit for someone elses work. Also i would like to see a place where i have once mentioned ANYTHING about me doing all of the work and not giving credit to the people who deserved it.

Those are the official Helicopter Pads I received from Westwood Studios for multiplayer games, and released to the public around Christmas-time with help from Bumpaneer for the damage and destruction aggregates.

No - your wrong Aircraftkiller - He never said i made them (that i can see) - i just helped him set up aggergates. (via questions asked on the forums, and tutorials)

And i believe he has given more credit for using other modder's work to build on more than others have here..

General Havoc is doing fine work - making more Renegade modifications - which in turn will keep the game going.

and isn't this a goal of the "official Renegade Mod Forums"?

Missed that part... He credited Bumpaneer for the Helipads, except those are the ones from Renegade Realm which came from WS.

Anyways, yes... I suppose his tutorials are good, but I'd like to see him release a tutorial instead of a video of a helicopter landing at a Helicopter Pad. We've already seen what it can do before... It's almost old hat now.

I haven't seen him do any Renegade modifications. Last time I checked, it was Dante making those scripts which allowed him to create tutorials on them.

Fact: He's done nothing but spam about the map that he had nothing to do with.

Fact: No one has wanted him around because of that.

So you can dispute that all you want... I wasn't the first to insult the punk.

A foolish or stupid person.

You clearly fit that description by visiting a forum that you have no intent of using, except to irritate others. A better word for you is a troll.

AircraftkillerIceSentryAircraftkillerAlright, you contradicted yourself... Again.

You insult me, then you say I shouldn't speak to others in the same manner. Pick a personality and an argument, then stick with it. I don't like color-changing lizards and you're not an exception.

Either argue or get out of the thread, which you should have done long ago - you had no reason to be in the mod forum considering you don't even make anything for Renegade. Go complain somewhere else, where you belong.

As for contradictions, do you know what the difference is between a moron, and an imbecile? Do you know what the difference between a moron and an idiot? Do you know the difference when stop care. And who cares about modding this game. I went as far to make a skin, but thats about it, I didn't see any real value in modding for this game.

Okay, so you have no place in this forum and you just admitted it yourself. Do us all a favor and leave - you're only causing problems here by trying to play Crusader for All That is Righteous when you're dead wrong all the time.

Yeah, I know the difference. You're not a moron, you're not an imbecile, you're an idiot.

an apt definition of you. See above. ^ then you too.

You see, now I'm dealing with you on your level of intelligence. From failure to respond to my other posts, inadequate detail or sanity, thence herefore and forthwith I'll deal with you at the level of the child you are and persist in being.

Give me facts to support what you're saying... I've yet to see you defend any of your unfounded insults without being redundant. If you're going to dance around the fact that you don't belong in this forum, and that your only purpose here is to irritate others... Then you'll probably find yourself banned quickly. I'll put in a request to Crimson about it.

Don't go crying about it, either. I can't see anyone who would vouch to have you stay. You're not an asset to this community. You're just a troll who gets his jollies by irritating established members of this community. You won't last long... I'll make sure of it.

But yeah, go ahead and keep repeating yourself. It takes a while for the human mind to believe lies when they're repeated over and over. Maybe you've already crossed the barrier.

This game is a dying game, and your might, and future accomplishments on it, will only pass into history. What have you done for me lately? The company who developed it just tossed it, and they you were using the other day was being redundant. Your pitiful attempts to sound rational and intelligent go in the toilet, when you use the type of language you use on the different people in all IceSentry, your quotes of "Modding this game is not worth my time, or learning to. It's not the best modding renegade, so please stop stirring up trouble in the Mod forum. There is nothing wrong with voicing your (apparently negative) attitude towards renegade, but the Mod forum is not the place for it.

If you wish to continue your argument with Ack, please take it to PM or somewhere else more appropriate.

I shall take this to "General Discussion" Thread. And find if any other adults find his filthy language offensive.
